TALIBAN BRING BACK MINISTRY TO CURB WOMEN'S FREEDOM

In the latest troubling sign for Afghanistan, the Taliban has set up a ministry for the 'propagation of virtue and prevention of vice' in the building that once housed the Women's Affairs Ministry, escorting out World Bank staffers on Saturday. During their previous rule in the 1990s, the Taliban had denied girls and women the right to education and also barred them from public life. P13

Punjab CM resigns moments before CLP meeting on his replacement

'HUMILIATED' CAPT QUITS, KEEPS OPTIONS OPEN

AMIT BANDRE

Apparently they (the high command) do not have confidence in me and did not think I could handle my job

Amarinder Singh, former Punjab CM

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

AFTER four-and-a-half years at the helm, Amarinder Singh stepped down as the Punjab chief minister on Saturday, citing continued humiliation by the Congress high command over the past two months.

The chief minister resigned moments before a CLP meeting, which passed a resolution authorising Congress president Sonia Gandhi to take a decision on Amarinder's replacement. He did not attend the meeting.

"I was humiliated three times by the Congress leadership in the past two months. They called the MLAs to Delhi twice and now they have convened a meeting of the Congress Legislature Party," he told reporters after resigning.

Amarinder's fate was sealed when the high command appointed Navjot Singh Sidhu as the state party chief in July. Sources said many ministers, MLAs and other leaders had also complained to Amarinder that there was growing anti-incumbency against him. The other complaints were he had failed to curb the drug mafia and his increasing reliance on the bureaucracy.

Although he stressed he had resigned as the chief minister and not from the party, he made it clear he would explore his future options when the time comes. "At the moment I am still in the Congress," he said.

Need to Indianise our legal system, says CJI Ramana

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Justice of India NV Ramana, who was in Bengaluru on Saturday, said, "The need of the hour is 'Indianisation' of our legal system, as our system, practices and rules, being colonial in origin, may not best suited to the needs of the Indian population. Also, the working of courts do not sit well with the complexities of India."

He was speaking on the 'Indian Judicial-Legal System' after paying tributes to Justice Mohan M Shantanagoudar at a function organised by the Karnataka State Bar Council at Vidhana Soudha.

"When I say Indianisation, I mean the need to adapt to the practical realities of our society and localise our justice delivery system," he said.

Skaters on a mission to empower rural government school students

students of a government school in Udbur practise freestyle rollerskating called 'urban skating'

MAGIC WHEELS

KARTHIK K K @ Mysuru

IT is a common sight to see children in rural pockets playing 'desi' games or running barefoot on village roads, chasing tyres with twigs. Certainly not whizzing around on skateboards. But Udbur in Mysuru is a village apart: here girls and boys are at ease rollerskating or skateboarding.

This rather urban skill reached Udbur village, thanks to a group of young skaters from Mysuru who are on a mission to empower rural government schoolkids with the skill of skating.

It started in 2018 when Grassroots Research and Advocacy Movement (GRAAM), a policy research and advocacy think-tank in Mysuru, launched the initiative to train the students of Udbur, as part of its comprehensive school development programme, Sugamya Shiksha. It highlights the importance of sports in a student's life. They invited interested youngsters to join hands to support the programme.

Pratap Chand, an instructor well known in the skating rinks of Mysuru, joined hands with GRAAM to successfully implement the project, and over the past several years, Pratap and his teammates have trained over 50 students of the government school in roller freestyle, popularly called 'urban skating'.

This initiative has helped young kids get hands-on experience in rollerskating, and master the skill to participate in skating events and competitions at the district and state level.

These children were not even aware of such a sporting activity before Pratap Chand arrived with his magic wheels. Like Nagaraju, a student who was trained by Pratap and his team, who said he was not aware about skating earlier. "Now I can easily skate around concrete roads in my village and I feel happy about participating in competitions. My parents are also happy," he said. Nagaraju has been learning to skate for three years.

Pratap said there are many disciplines in skating, like speed-skating, ice-skating, downhill-skating etc. "We decided to teach them roller freestyle as we had the necessary place adjacent to the school. "It was a great experience teaching students who had no idea about skating. Around 10 of our students got a chance to perform at the district and state level skating events," he said.

However, the Covid-19 outbreak came as a major hurdle as training had to stop. Though they have joined hands with GRAAM, Pratap and his teammates Jibin Thomas, Sawan Rawath and Harsha are relaunching the initiative on October 1, and planning to reach out to more government schools in rural pockets.

School headmaster Ramu Shetty is happy that their school is the first in the state to train students in skating, and said it has increased enrolment. "We must thank Pratap and his team who provided us with basic amenities, including steel plates for over 700 students, by sourcing money from friends and like-minded people in the form of donation," he said.

Basavaraju R Shreshta, executive director of GRAAM, is glad that the initiative has contributed to the growth of children in terms of life skills. "It led parents and school authorities to encourage children to take up sports, and this stands as an example of realising the importance of sports, and gives children enough exposure to grown in the field. I am happy that Pratap and his team are planning to reach out to more students," he said.

While GRAAM helped provide students with all necessary equipment and safety guards in the initial days to help them learn the basics, Pratap, with help from parents of private students, raised funds to help the students get advanced skates to participate in the events.

Pratap and his team are planning to continue this mission at various other government schools in the district and are looking forward to generous contributions from people to fund the purchase of skates and guards to train rural students for free.

HEART TO HEART CONNECTION

Mangaluru doctor starts 'Cardiology At Doorsteps', Whatsapp group to take cardiac care to patients in rural areas

G SUBASH CHANDRA @ Chitradurga

IN 2014, Dr Padmanabha Kamath, an interventional cardiologist, professor and head of the Cardiology Department at Kasturba Medical College, Mangaluru, helplessly watched a young man die after a massive cardiac arrest because of delayed diagnosis. The only fault of the youngster was that he was from Karnataka's rural hinterlands that did not have proper medical care.

The heart-rending episode so moved Dr Kamath that he decided to provide at least basic cardiac care to the rural people. It transpired into action, which led to setting up of Cardiology At Doorsteps (CAD) Foundation in 2018. He also created a WhatsApp group with 150 members and installed ECG (electrocardiography) machines at Public Health Centres (PHCs) and private clinics in rural parts of Mangaluru.

The active group started advising and assisting patients through the WhatsApp group after identifying heart ailments. The project grew by leaps and soon, Pradhan Mantri Jan Aushadhi Kendras and Anganwadis too were included under its umbrella. ECG reports were taken at their facilities and put up on the WhatsApp group which were analysed by the group's members within minutes saving a number of lives within the precious 'golden hour', Dr Kamath said.

"After witnessing the youngster succumbing to a heart disease due of delayed diagnosis, I decided to collect the data of village hospitals, Jan Aushadhi Kendras, Anganwadis and doctors, including AAYUSH and Ayurvedic physicians. I trained them to use ECG machines, prepare reports and forward them to the group. We started prescribing medicines that were available in rural areas. The group also trained healthcare professionals to provide first-aid to those suffering from cardiac problems," he said.

"The fact is, more than 80 per cent of heart patients can be saved if first-aid is given immediately after ECG reports indicate heart issues. But in rural areas, lack of proper diagnosis and shortage of ECG facilities has led to many deaths," Dr Kamath added.

After an ECG report is posted in the Whatsapp group, members go through it and prescribe the line of treatment immediately. In case of an emergency, an alert is sent to health professionals to give first-aid to cardiac patients, he said.

The Foundation aims to cover over 50 lakh people in Karnataka and Kerala by this year-end. It has installed 415 ECG machines at rural health centres and Pradhan Mantri Jan Aushadhi Kendras in remote parts of 20 districts in the State. The Foundation has formed two separate WhatsApp groups for outstation patients and jawans. It also recently launched a dedicated website and 24-hour cardiac helpline.

"Many people, especially underprivileged and elderly patients, are refusing to go to hospital because of fears of Covid. The website and round-the-clock dedicated cardiac helpline will help overcome these fears in treating patients," he said.

CAD-GAP is working well and we want to take it forward in a big way so that lives are saved within the golden hour

Mann Ki Baat

Recalling his interaction with Prime Minister Narendra Modi in 'Mann ki Baat', he said, "That motivated me to spread cardiac care among more people in rural areas."

After the success of CAD in Karnataka, Dr Kamath plans to replicate the model under the name 'Project Punarjeevan' in other states.

New project

To change the quality of cardiac care in Karnataka, the Foundation has initiated the project CAD-GAP, where 40 gram panchayats and Anganawadis in the State have been roped in and given ECG machines. It has also distributed over 1,500 cardiac enzyme kits to help train rural volunteers to provide first-aid to cardiac patients. "CAD-GAP is working well and we want to take it forward in a big way so that lives are saved within the golden hour," Dr Kamath said.

Residents stage stir at BDA HQ over khatas

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

DRESSED in black clothes, owners of sites and houses in the Bangalore Development Authority's MKS Layout in Doddakallasandra on Saturday, staged a silent protest at the BDA head office at Palace Guttahalli demanding issuance of Khata certificates. It has been nearly two years since they have not been given the khatas, thus preventing many owners from carrying out construction works on their sites, and causing them much financial strain.

Nearly 50 residents with banners stating 'Negligent BDA officials' stood in the middle of the office between 3 pm and 5 pm. Later, they met the BDA officials who have assured them that their issue would be looked into at the earliest.

The New Indian Express had in its Saturday edition highlighted the sufferings of house owners who have been running from pillar to post for nearly two years to get their khata certificates.

COVID-19 WARRIOR SCALES MT ELBRUS

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

IF you think that Covid-19 warriors are only health care professionals, think again. There were many who quit their jobs to become dedicated Covid-19 warriors. Now, as the travel restrictions have eased, they're all set to pursue their dreams. One such person is 34-year-old Naveen Mallesh, the founder of TrekNomads, a Bengaluru-based startup .

Mallesh was chosen from the Karnataka StartUp Cell to work as a Covid-19 warrior. In March 2020, he was assigned the role of an incharge of volunteers for South Zone Covid War Room.On Friday, he climbed Mt.Elbrus (5,642 mts), the highest and most prominent peak in Russia and Europe. He has dedicated his ascent of Mt. Elbrus to all the Covid-19 warriors in the State. Speaking from the base camp of Mt Elbrus, Mallesh told TNIE, that he's the only person from Bengaluru and Karnataka to have summited the mountain, during the pandemic.

"It is my dream to scale all the mountains in seven continents. I had climbed Mt.Kilimanjaro in October 2019 and wanted to climb Elbrus in 2020, but could not do so owing to the pandemic. But now, as the restrictions have eased, I decided to start again," he said. Narrating his journey, Mallesh said, "I underwent a two-month training and practice sessions in Kashmir before going to Russia. I was the only one from here (Karnataka) and was accompanied by three Russians. Since this was the end of the season for Mt. Elbrus expedition, I had to rush. The protocols followed in Russia were a shocker to me. I was cordoned off for about three hours before getting the clearance. Then, I went to Mineralnye Vody and met my trek guide. Eventually, we travelled to the base camp of Mt. Elbrus."

To acclimatise with the climate, two treks were conducted before setting off at 1 am on Friday to reach the summit. It took him nine hours to reach the peak.

Citizens object to CM heading transport body

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

Citizens and civic experts have red-flagged a proposal to have the Chief Minister as the head of the Bangalore Metropolitian Land Transport Authority, contending the he may not be able to devote time for it.

The Bangalore Metropolitian Land Transport Authority (BMLTA) Bill, prepared by the Department of Urban Land Transport, is yet to be tabled in the legislature.,

Citizens pointed out that this body too may become like the Metropolitan Planning Commission, also headed by the CM, but little or no work has taken place.

They demanded that instead, an additional chief secretary of the UDD or someone in equivalent rank be appointed as head. "I have no problem with the CM holding the post as there will be power, but does the CM have time? This will become like any other agency. The city needs funds to improve cycling, pedestrian facilities and bring all mobility agencies together. The purpose of BMLTA should not be lost," said Bengaluru Bicycle Mayor Satya Shankaran.

Delhi-bound AI flight suffers brake jam on taxiway, delayed by 5 hours

Picture for representation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN WHAT is believed to be a "rare incident", an Air India flight from Bengaluru to New Delhi suffered jamming of the brakes in one of its wheels when taxiing to the North Runway before take-off, bringing the aircraft to a standstill. Passengers were deboarded, the issue rectified after multiple attempts and flight AI 505 later took off nearly five-and-half hours later.

The flight was supposed to depart from Kempegowda International Airport from Runway 27R at 10.25 am, but finally took off at 3.25 pm. No one was able to give details about the number of passengers on board, but a source said a rough estimate could be around 200.

According to a senior official of the Directorate General of Civil Aviation, "The Bengaluru-Delhi flight suffered brake binding on wheel number 5 when the aircraft was lining for runway 27R. The aircraft was left on the runway. No arrivals were possible on runway 27R. However, departures were taking off on 27R from an A4 intersection."

In a statement, a BIAL spokesperson said, "On September 18, a Delhi-bound Air India flight developed a technical issue while taxiing to the runway. There was no impact on the operations as the South Runway was used to ensure smooth operations."

Air India did not respond to calls or messages.An airport source said that the switch of flights to the other runway had to be made because the Air India flight was a B787, a wide body aircraft, thereby occupying much space.

Sources said, "The brake apparatus was jammed. The aircraft cannot move when that happens. So, all passengers had to be deboarded and the issue examined and set right. The flight took off at 3.45 pm."

'Focus is on improving connectivity, infra to attract more investments'

RAMU PATIL @Bengaluru

SUNDAY INTERVIEW

We are taking several steps to encourage industries and many big projects are coming up in districts. We are providing all assistance, connectivity and required infrastructure for that to happen

Murugesh Nirani, Minister

THE State Government is focusing on improving connectivity and infrastructure to attract investment and generate employment opportunities. Large and Medium Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani has sought suggestions from industry leaders. "We will sit with them and discuss all issues. It will help to resolve issues as well as take them into confidence," he told TNSE.

EXCERPTS:

Most of the investment seems to be centred around Bengaluru. The government has been talking about taking industries to other parts. How successful is that effort?

Not much, as infrastructure is a major concern. For example, there was no airport in Kalaburagi and whatever concession we give, people will still not go there. Except for Bengaluru, Mangaluru was the only airport with regular flights. Belagavi and Hubballi had very few flights and since the last two years, there has been an increase in the number of flight services from those cities. Investors come when there is proper connectivity and infrastructure. We are focusing on it. My plan is to have airports every 100 km. In 2012, I had also started work on a high-speed train. The idea was to connect Bengaluru-Mysuru and Hubballi-Belagavi in the first phase, Bengaluru to Hubballi and Kalaburagi in the second phase and districts in the third phase. We had also visited Japan twice to study high-speed train systems. However, by the time we started, the government changed. We are also concentrating on developing ports. We are taking several steps to encourage industries across the state and many big projects are coming up in districts. We are providing all assistance, connectivity and required infrastructure for that to happen.

What are the initiatives taken to put Karnataka in the number one spot on the industrial map?

Very good climate, law and order situation, number of universities, engineering colleges and availability of skilled manpower help to attract investment. We are highest in gems and jewellery exports; the IT sector contributes significantly to exports; and the aerospace sector is doing very well. We respond to investors' concerns and ensure ease-of-doing-business. Along with the industrial policy, we have taken several measures like a special incentive package for the electronics sector, engineering, R&D policy, and an updated electric vehicle policy. We will come up with an updated aerospace and defence policy and also data centre policy. We have identified 11 industrial clusters under the 'product-specific industrial cluster programme' and expect nine lakh jobs in the next nine years. A few new clusters like the FMCG cluster in Dharwad, toys cluster in Koppal, bulk drugs park in Yadgir and EV cluster in Ramanagara have been identified. There is also a discussion on doing away with the 99-year lease provision and going for a sale deed after industries comply with all requirements.

Karnataka was number one in attracting FDI in the April-June quarter. Which are the sectors that are doing well and which sectors need a further push?

With 48% of the total FDI coming to Karnataka, we are number one in the last quarter. The IT sector is reaching a saturation point in Bengaluru. We are doing well in all the sectors.

What action is being taken against firms that got land from the government, but are not using it for the purposes it was allotted for?

We are issuing notices and giving them 30 days to explain. We are thinking of taking back land not used for over five years.

You recently mentioned a genuine single-window clearance system and one-time single-window clearance for businesses. What is being done on that front?

We are giving single window clearance with ABC (affidavit-based clearance) system. Companies can start their project the very next day without waiting for any downstream approvals or clearances from different government agencies. However, they have to get all the clearances within three years. Single-window clearance is the highest authority that consists of officials from all the departments. After getting its approval, they need not stop work to get approval from the local municipalities or gram panchayats. They just need to pay the fee fixed by the government and get an acknowledgement. This is to avoid harassment at the lower level.

When will the Global Investors Meet (GIM) be held?

We are thinking of doing it in November 2022. The exact dates will be announced after getting approval from the CM.

Why is the conversion ratio from MoUs to investment less?

As long as we do not provide the required infrastructure, it will not increase. If we give land, power, water and ensure ease of doing business and ensure there is no harassment, more people will come and the conversion ratio will increase automatically. The reason for the 27% conversion ratio after GIMs in 2010 and 2012, was mainly because the next government (Congress) denotified and surrendered lands, and around Rs 2.5 lakh crore investment was to come from six steel plants, which did not come.

We are focusing on investment, but what about jobs?

We are concentrating more on industries that create more jobs and give them more incentives. We are thinking about job creation.

How will incidents like a violent protest at the Wistron facility impact investors?

We will handle such incidents on a case-to-case basis and resolve them.

TEMPLE DEMOLITION

'Even Gandhi wasn't spared': Mahasabha leader warns BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

AKHILA Bharatha Hindu Mahasabha state general secretary Dharmendra courted controversy after he warned the BJP of 'teaching it a lesson' for demolishing temples in the state saying that they "did not spare even Mahatma Gandhi."

Addressing the media on Saturday in the backdrop of the demolition of a temple in Nanjangud taluk, Dharmendra said, "We killed Gandhiji when Hindus were murdered. Do you think we will spare you?" he taunted the BJP, adding that the "Taliban is better than the spineless BJP." However, later in the day, he apologised for his statements. "I have not made any negative comments against the CM. If anyone is hurt by my statement, I will apologise," he added.

Earlier, he said that the state BJP government is trying to "appease Muslims" by giving its nod for temple demolition. "The curse from the people to the BJP for demolishing temples will lead to its downfall. The BJP has shown its dual face and it has failed to bring an anti-conversion law. Law and the court is not above our nation's culture. Hence, the courts should function keeping in mind the religious sentiments of Hindus," he said.

"The BJP which came to power in the name of Hindutva, has backstabbed Hindus. The seers who screamed when the CM was changed have now become silent. The protest by the Sangh Parivar is disgusting. If the Sangh Parivar's protest is justifiable, then they should support the Hindu Mahasabha in the next state elections and defeat the BJP," he said.

Mysuru MLA will move private member's Bill to regularise illegal temples

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

AT a time when the political slugfest over the demolition of a temple in Nanjangud taluk in Mysuru district continues, BJP MLA SA Ramadass on Saturday said he will move a private member's Bill in the Assembly to enact the Karnataka Regularisation of Unauthorisedly Constructed Hindu Temples Act, 2021.

The aim of the Bill is to regualarise unauthorised temples, he said.

The MLA said on Saturday that he has already brought to the notice of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai about moving the Bill, which is scheduled to be taken up for discussion on September 23.

"I will also write to Leader of Opposition in the Assembly Siddaramaiah and other members, including Janta Dal Secular leaders, seeking their support to the Bill in the Assembly," he said.

Stating that this piece of legislation has been planned to harmonise social relationships and religious feelings of people, the former medical education minister said it is also aimed at giving legal sanctity to unauthorised temples.

"Temples are cultural centres and there is a need to codify such temples and their properties and regularise them. This Bill consists of 10 major sections, including constituting a competent authority in each taluk to receive applications for regularisation of unauthorised temples, consider all records and recommend further action," he said.

The private member's Bill can be passed in the Assembly or can be converted into a Government Bill and the government can get it enacted after discussing it in the Assembly— a decision which will have to be taken by Bommai, he said.

BJP meet to discuss poll agenda, 4 teams to tour state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Davanagere

CM Basavaraj Bommai, former CM BS Yediyurappa, BJP National General Secretary Arun Singh, party state president Nalin Kumar Kateel, MP DV Sadananda Gowda, and Transport Minister B Sriramulu at the party's two-day state executive committee meeting in Davanagere on Saturday | EXPRESS

THE two-day state executive committee meeting of the BJP, which started here on Saturday, discussed various issues including ways to strengthen the party, apart from taking stock of programmes like 'Seva Hi Sangathan', 'Seva Samarpan Abhiyan', convergence of the latter with the NaMo mobile application. This was the first executive committee meeting after Nalin Kumar Kateel took over as state party president.

According to sources, the meeting decided that four teams will tour the state ahead of the elections to zilla and taluk panchayats scheduled to be held later in the year or early next year. Sources futher added that the meeting also discussed the issue of demolition of a temple in Nanjungud taluk.

To a question on whether price rise and inflation were discussed, party spokesperson and former MLC Capt Ganesh Karnik said such issues are for the government to handle and Saturday's discussions were mostly centred around strengthening the organisation.

Party state organising general secretary Arun Kumar held meetings with district and region in-charges on the ongoing public outreach programmes as part of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's birthday celebrations from September 17 to October 17.

For the first time, the party is organising an interactive meeting of the workers with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai where various issues will be discussed during a 20-minute slot. Along with this, ways to tackle the forthcoming bypolls to two Assembly segments and the polls to Zilla and Taluk Panchayats will be discussed, Arun Kumar pointed out.

He also noted that the personal presence of party functionaries in big numbers will boost their confidence in a big way. So far, virtual meetings and discussions with select members were being held in the wake of the Covid-19 outbreak.

On the concluding day, two resolutions will be passed and a discussion will also be held on how the previous resolutions have been acted upon, he added.

Meanwhile, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa told the media that he had started his statewide tour with his recent Mysuru visit. Yediyurappa further said that his tour not only aims at strengthening the BJP, but also to ensure that the party forms the government in 2023 with a full majority.

"I will be touring the state to strengthen the party from grassroots and bring it to power with a whopping majority of 135-140 seats," Yediyurappa added.

> His (Siddaramaiah) sudden concern about demolition of temples is just to gain sympathy which will not work. Congress never believes in construction of temples. They have been opposing construction of Ram Mandir in Ayodya

Arun Singh calls Siddu 'anti-Hindu'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Davanagere

BJP National General Secretary (Karnataka incharge) Arun Singh on Saturday hit out at Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah for politicising the recent demolition of a temple in Nanjangud taluk of Mysuru district that has created a big political storm in the State.

Singh, who is in Davangere to attend a two-day BJP state executive committee meeting, said the BJP strongly believes in the protection of temples and suggestions from leaders of other political parties are not needed.

Terming Siddaramaiah 'anti-Hindu', Singh said that earlier, Congress leaders spoke only about mosques. "His (Siddaramaiah) sudden concern about demolition of temples is just to gain sympathy which will not work," he added.

"We are going to build a beautiful temple in the same place. We don't need lessons from others. We have a special love for Gods. Our stand is evident from the construction of Ram temple in Ayodhya," he said.

"Congress is a party which never believes in construction of temples. They have been opposing the construction of Ram Mandir in Ayodya. Their sudden change in stand is just a political move, which will not help them," he added.

On BSY's state tour

On party senior leader BS Yediyurappa's proposed tour of the state, Singh said the former chief minister is a mature politician and does not need permission from anyone to go ahead with his plan. Giving full marks to the Basavaraj Bommai government, Singh said welfare programmes of the government are reaching all sections of society.

Do not go to media, embarrass government, Chief secy tells officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State Government on Saturday issued a circular restricting government officials from going to the media and putting the government in an embarrassing position. It also prevents officials from touting government works as their personal achievements in their social media accounts.

Chief Secretary P Ravikumar, in a circular to all IAS, IPS and other officials, stated, "It has been brought to our notice that many government officials are either holding press meets or giving unnecessary statements to the media which is impacting government administration and embarrassing the government. The government is considering their statements seriously and directs them to carry out only bona fide responsibilities."

The chief secretary pointed out that the All-India Services Conduct Rules 1968 states that no member of the service shall, except with the previous sanction of the government, have recourse to any court or to the press for the vindication of the official act which has been the subject matter of adverse criticism or attack of a defamatory character. He also cited the Karnataka Civil Services (Conduct) Rules, which prohibit officials from speaking to the media.

He directed officials not to use their personal handles in social media to criticise the government or claim government works as their achievement.

Our staff seen in Soudha running around for transfers, says Social Welfare Minister

Bengaluru: Social Welfare Minister Kota Shrinivas Poojary has raised objections to the staff from his department spending more time on Vidhana Soudha corridors and at Secretariat offices seeking transfers. In his letter to the Additional Chief Secretary of his department, Poojary said the staff from the department and from various boards and corporations are using pressure tactics to seek transfers. "Many employees leave in the middle of their work and run around for transfers even after the general transfer process is completed. A large number of middlemen are trying to benefit from this. Also, in some posts, people who are not eligible have been appointed. Transfers should be done only through counselling," he said. But there are many genuine cases of employees who are differently-abled, widows and spouses seeking transfers, he said. ENS

Return degrees: DKS to unemployed youth

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar on Saturday asked unemployed youth to return their graduation certificates to protest against the Union Government's failure to create more jobs.

Speaking to the media here on Saturday, the Congress leader said that the Centre promised two crore jobs each year. If the Centre cannot generate the promised number of jobs, it should have come up with policies to create more employment opportunities in the private sector, he said.

Along with celebrating 'Unemployment Day', unemployed youth should also return their graduation certificates as the Union Government failed to create employment opportunities, he said.

He defended the party's decision to celebrate Prime Minister Narendra Modi's birthday (September 17) as 'Unemployment Day'.

To encourage young talented leaders to join the Youth Congress, the party is taking up a programme. Senior Congress leader BL Shankar said there is a need to encourage young leaders and the Youth Congress will identify such leaders and make them party spokespersons in the districts. The selection process will be conducted in all the districts. Those willing to join the Youth Congress can take part in the selection process.

Woman assaults health worker during vax drive in Hubballi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

THE police have arrested a woman on charges of assaulting a healthcare worker on duty and also objecting to the latter from discharging the same. The accused has been remanded to judicial custody.

The accused, Ambika Narayan Jartarghar, a resident of Bommapur Oni here, was accused of hitting a healthcare worker Nandini Chuncha during the mega vaccination drive on Friday.

According to an officer, at a vaccination booth in New English Medium School, Ambika had come to receive the vaccine. After receiving the shot, she got into an argument with Nandini over not seeing the message regarding vaccination details on her mobile.

The officer said, "Though Nandini tried to convince her that she would see the message once the entry is made in the application, the latter continued to abuse her. After a sustained argument, Ambika allegedly struck Nandini on her face with her mobile phone, which resulted in her injuring her lips."

14 Covid deaths across 7 districts

Bengaluru: Seven districts reported 14 Covid deaths on Saturday, with most of them reported from Bengaluru Urban. With this, the total death toll has now gone up to 37,587. After three days of witnessing over 1,000 new cases, the number dropped on Saturday to 889 additions. The total positive cases in the state now stands at 29,67,083. While 1,080 patients were discharged, taking the total to 29,13,713, the total active case count now stands at 15,755. Of the 14 deaths, Bengaluru Urban reported six followed by Dakshina Kannada and Udupi with two deaths each and one death each from Hassan, Shivamogga, Kolar and Tumakuru. Meanwhile, Bengaluru Urban reported 263 new cases, lesser than the numbers reported over the past two days. ENS

Over five crore people have been administered vaccine doses ever since the nationwide drive began

IFFATH FATHIMA @ Bengaluru

ALTHOUGH Karnataka administered over 31 lakh doses, topping the list of states during the 'Lasika Mela' held across the country on Friday, it stands at sixth position overall in terms of vaccination. Experts pointed out that there is a need to focus on covering low-income groups that are being missed out, to increase vaccination sites and have free camps in targeted areas.

According to data on the CoWin portal, Karnataka has vaccinated 5,18,76,105 people so far, ever since the nationwide inoculation drive was launched on January 19. Uttar Pradesh tops the chart with 9,41,15,818 vaccination doses being administered followed by Maharashtra at 7,32,57,136, Madhya Pradesh with 5,71,71,499 doses, Gujarat (5,64,50,129) and Rajasthan (5,34,28,799).

In the 60-plus age group, over 97,10,484 people have been vaccinated in the state while in the 45-59 age group, 1,48,96,351 people have been inoculated. In the 18-44 group, 2,72,69,270 people have received vaccine doses. When the vaccination drive began, Karnataka was in number one position, covering a major section of healthcare workers. However, with more groups added, coupled with hesitancy among people and short supply of vaccines, the numbers dropped. The state now aims to complete vaccination of the entire population in the next three-and-half months.

Asked how the state plans to increase vaccination coverage, Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said that other states have bigger population and it cannot be compared. "In terms of percentage of the population vaccinated, Karnataka already stands third after Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh. With Friday's mega vaccination drive, Karnataka has vaccinated 77% of its adult population with at least one dose. Comparison based on absolute numbers is not correct because there are states with much larger population than Karnataka."

However, he pointed out that some regions need to buck up. "The issue is only with a few districts in Kalyana Karnataka region. We are trying to asses the reasons for vaccine hesitancy in the region. We are hopeful that these districts will also catch up soon. Rural districts have done exceedingly well. With about 60% rural population, the state can't achieve 77% vaccination without rural areas doing well," added Dr Sudhakar.

A public health expert pointed out that the need of the hour is to reach out to lower-income groups. "While the urban areas are being covered and many individuals are coming forward for vaccination, focus should be on slums, labourers, migrants and others. More camps at construction sites or other areas can help in targeting more numbers," he said.

In Karnataka, the highest coverage has been in the BBMP limits, with 1,12,18,222 doses administered, followed by Belagavi (35,36,503) and Mysuru (26,42,290). Districts like Gadag, Yagir and Kodagu have the least number of vaccinations done.

BBMP Health Commissioner Randeep D pointed out that they now plan to reach out door to door or lane to lane to have the maximum population covered. "More camps will be set up in market places and slums. We aim to vaccinate 75,000 people each day. Right now, supply is good and we need to make use of it," he said.

Reduce gap between Covishield doses: Experts

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

ALTHOUGH the Centre recently made it clear that it won't be reducing the gap between the two Covishield doses for efficacy reasons, experts feel that it may be time for the government to tweak the policy and shorten the gap between two doses.

In a recent study by Indian researchers, they detected signatures of the Delta infection in 25% of the 95 healthcare workers in five hospitals across New Delhi. These workers were fully vaccinated with Covishield. Karnataka also has been reporting more and more breakthrough infections, and hence, experts feel that it is time the second dose is given sooner to offer better protection against the virus. "The primary purpose of protection from severe disease is well met by the vaccines, including Covishield. But the large proportion of breakthrough infections and increasing post-immunisation infection rate among single-dose recipients indicate an urgency to revise vaccination policies for more effective use of the existing vaccines," a senior doctor said.

Experts are divided over the exact interval. Some experts said that the vaccination policy should be tailored to the local status of the spread of the infection and presence of Delta variant, hence, the duration should be reduced to four weeks from the current eight. Dr US Vishal Rao, Dean, Centre of Academic Research at HCG Cancer Centre, who is a member of the State's Genomic Surveillance Committee, said, "Currently, we know that Delta and its sublineages have shown tendency towards vaccine escape mutations, but continue to be effective. There is no conclusive evidence to tweak vaccination policy currently. However, there seems to be an obvious need to accelerate vaccination."

Virologist Prof Shahid Jameel said, "Science does support the increased gap of 8-12 weeks between doses. With over 800 million vaccine doses administered, we have about 58% people with one dose and 14.5% with both doses. This means about 77% of the 18+ population has received at least one dose."

Even educational institutes claim that if several states like Haryana and even in Karnataka, if students, employees flying abroad are permitted to take early jabs, then why can't the same privilege be extended to others? "If it is possible to prioritise people and reduce the gap between doses, then teachers and staff at educational institutions should also be considered for this," said B Shashikumar, General Secretary of Private Schools' Association.

Small gangs vie for space, but cops watching

TEAM TNIE

THERE is an old saying: "When the big fish fight, the shrimps must lie low." But with the big fish vanishing, the shrimps are eyeing their roles. That is exactly what is happening among smaller criminal gangs across Karnataka who are vying to capture territories and expand their networks after the dissipation of the earlier well-organised, bigger gangs.

The time through the pandemic has made this all the more evident with the spotlight on rowdies and their activities over the last one-and-a-half years.

But these fledgling gangs, each aspiring to be more infamous than the other, are already under the scanner of the police and security apparatus of the state. This has led to a degree of frustration among them, resulting in more brutality while targeting rival gangs to achieve their goals faster.

The September 12 incident in which history-sheeter Aravind was brutally hacked to death, allegedly by his rival gang, inside the Karnataka Football Stadium in Ashok Nagar in Bengaluru is a case in point. So is last month's brutal lynching of rowdy Mazhar Khan by a group of people from his neighbourhood in DJ Halli police limits. In July, another history-sheeter, Joseph alias Bubli, was hacked to death by a gang of eight inside a bank in Koramangala.

The three murders in broad daylight have put the spotlight on a murky, albeit a fledgling underworld. Within its domain, strife involves desperately seeking the status of capturing the erstwhile lucrative but dangerous markets of once-well-organised underworld gangs that now no longer exist, except in pockets, although without the influence they once exercised.

For the police, a fewer well-organised larger gangs were better to monitor through a network of intelligence sleuths and informers. But a larger number of smaller gangs has made it difficult for the intelligence wing to do so, sources said.

SOCIAL MEDIA AS INFORMER

Social media has come to the rescue of the police. Police officials say small gangs vying for dominance have lost their significance in the face of social media, which has emerged as an important tool for intelligence feeds.

"With social media, it has become difficult to crush the voice of innocent people, even those living in remote villages," says a senior police officer. "People have social media platforms now to raise alarm against criminals. They post names and photos of criminals on WhatsApp or Facebook to bring their activities to the attention of police. Social media has helped the police keep a check on such anti-social elements."

This is significantly helping intelligence gathering by way of a ready network of "informers". "Our focus on human intelligence more than depending on tech-based intelligence, which comes to our aid only after a crime is committed, is also a factor that has disabled such smaller gangs from operating effectively," the official said.

BIG PICTURE

> The numbers (of rowdies) look up because of our accelerated preventive measures such as increased surveillance and detention of rowdies and habitual offenders, who can potentially threaten peace and harmony. Every police station in Bengaluru has been given a target to keep a vigil and regularly round up rowdies and keep them on their toes. Two rowdies have been externed from their jurisdiction this year. Heightened surveillance led to the arrest of rowdy Rajesh alias Kariya from Nepal by the South division police in June.
> — KAMAL PANT, BENGALURU CITY POLICE COMMISSIONER

As per official statistics for Bengaluru City, in the last one year, around 130 rowdies have been arrested on various charges and remanded to judicial custody. "As on August 31, we have detained 24 rowdies under the Goonda Act including two habitual offenders who were detained under the Prevention of Illicit Trafficking of Narcotic Drugs & Psychotropic Substances Act as a precautionary measure to maintain law and order," said Bengaluru Police Commissioner Kamal Pant. In 2020, the city police detained 15 rowdies under the Goonda Act.

Also, the Department of Prisons and Correctional Services recently transferred 18 criminals from Parappana Agrahara Central Prison to different prisons across the state based on information that they were involved in criminal activities even while behind bars.

"Till August this year, the city police have booked 3,068 security cases against the accused and taken bonds. Of these, 25 who violated bond conditions have been sent to judicial custody using magisterial powers under Sections 107 and 110 of the CrPC," said Joint Commissioner (Crime) Sandeep Patil. In 2020, the police booked 1,808 security cases.

Does the increase in number of rowdies reflect their expanding network? The recent spate of murders of rowdies in public places is a pointer to that. Sources say many history-sheeters are out on bail and are back in business. Rowdy Aravind, who was hacked to death in the football stadium, was detained under the Goonda Act, but was let off by the Advisory Board.

THE LOOSE ENDS

Though a record number have been detained under the Goonda Act, some like Aravind have been let out. "Much of rowdy activities were under control during lockdowns, but once restrictions were lifted, criminal activities like gambling and drug peddling have resurfaced. Most rowdies flourish under political patronage, and also with links with some lower level police personnel. If not transferred in time, the rowdies cultivate links with them. This further gives them the licence to operate without the fear of police," said a source.

Meanwhile, deputy commissioners of police and superintendents of police have been asked to exercise their magisterial powers to take necessary preventive measures and book cases against criminals.

TIGHTENING THE SCREWS

Fledgling gangs are now trying to take on functions of erstwhile organised gangs in Dakshina Kannada who primarily acted as middlemen in financial deals. Then, there are communally motivated gangs settling scores for political and communal murders which occurred in the past and gangs which form the muscle for illegal activities like drug transportation, sand mining, etc.

Mangaluru DCP Hariram Shankar said that earlier, there were organised gangs of Bannanje Raja, Akash Bhavan Sharan, Ravi Pujari, who resorted to extortion from builders, hospitals, etc. "With financial deals going sour, people are now approaching us directly. Organised extortion is no longer reported these days in Mangaluru," he said.

"Earlier 'Monkeystand' Vijay, Sorinje Lithesh, Thallath, 'Don' Nasir, etc., used to operate in specific areas. All of them have stopped their open activities, mostly after February this year."

Mangaluru Police Commissioner N Shashi Kumar admits that offences are increasing post-lockdown, but have remained confined to petty crimes. "This year, there were no major incidents, brutal murders or emergence of smaller or bigger groups. There was only one incident of attempt-to-murder in Suratkal this year, but no organised gang was involved," he says.

LEGACY OF GANG WARS

In Vijayapura district, gang wars have been triggered by disputes between the Byragonda and Chadachan families. The latest was on November 2, 2020, when members of Dharmaraj Mallikarjun Chadachan group attacked history-sheeter Mahadeva Sahukar Byragonda to avenge the murder of Dharmaraj Chadachan, who was reportedly killed in a fake encounter in 2017. Byragonda survived the attack, but his car driver succumbed to bullet injuries. It was the first big attack in the district in the last four years.

The rivalry between the two families dates back to early 1980s. But it has attracted youngsters to hooliganism, and each dreaming of making it big on their own. Among the 30 accused in the Byragonda shootout case reported last year, 95 per cent were below 28 years of age.

Vijayapura SP HD Ananda Kumar said, "We are keeping tabs on all the gangs. To prevent young history-sheeters from indulging in crime, we are imposing various security Acts and producing them before the executive magistrate to make a pledge not to indulge in gang wars."

He says they have tightened norms for gun licensing in the district. "Now, we are considering only genuine applications and issuing licences only after detailed verification. We are strictly avoiding issuing gun licences to youngsters." Kumar, however, points out there are chances of poor financial condition of families pushing youngsters to take up illegal routes to make a quick buck.

Family head blames wife for suicide pact

Bengaluru: The Byadarahalli police, who have been probing the suspected suicide of five members of a family, on Saturday questioned the head of the family, Hallagere Shankar, while he filed a case against his wife Bharathi for likely provocation of other members of the family to end their lives. Shankar told the police that Bharathi had asked him to donate Rs 10 lakh to an Ashram, while he had given Rs 20 lakh to his son Madhu Sagar to open a bar. A few months ago, Bharathi and his daughter Sindhurani had attempted suicide by consuming sleeping pills after he tried to convince Sindhurani to go back to her husband's house. The Rajajinagar police had intervened and Shankar was forced to write an apology letter. On Saturday, the postmortems were conducted on Saturday and bodies handed over to relatives. The police also recovered a diary from Madhu Sagar. ENS

'Crucial to make justice delivery transparent'

"PARTIES from a rural area fighting a family dispute are usually made to feel out of place in the court. They do not understand the arguments or pleadings which are mostly in English, a language alien to them. These days, judgements have become lengthy which further complicates the position of litigants. To understand the implications of a judgement, they are forced to spend more money," CJI Ramana added.

"Simplification of justice delivery should be our pressing concern. It is crucial to make justice delivery more transparent, accessible and effective. The procedural barriers often undermine access to justice. The common man should not be apprehensive about approaching the court and authorities. It is the duty of lawyers and judges to create an environment which is comforting to the litigants and other stakeholders," he said.

"We must not forget that the focal point of any justice delivery system is the litigant, the justice seeker. The use of alternative dispute mechanisms, such as mediation and conciliation, would go a long way in reducing the friction between parties and save resources. This also reduces the pendency and requirement of having lengthy arguments and lengthy judgements", he opined.

Touching incident

Talking about Justice Late Shantanagoudar, CJI Ramana narrated an incident which touched his heart. One day, CJI Ramana lost a gemstone of his finger ring that was given to him by Sathya Sai Baba after his elevation as a Supreme Court judge. Both he and Justice Shantanagoudar were upset. It was extremely difficult to search for the gemstone in the lounges and corridors of the Supreme Court which are large. But within half an hour, Justice Shantanagoudar found the gem. He had personally searched the entire premises and traced the precious stone.

Releasing a documentary on Justice Shantanagoudar, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said there is a need to set up a chair in a university in the name of the Justice Shantanagoudar.

Goyal meets coffee growers, says will simplify Act

Bengaluru: Union Minister for Commerce and Industry Piyush Goyal held a meeting with coffee growers, roasters, exporters and other stakeholders at Coffee Board Head Office in Bengaluru and assured to simplify the Coffee Act. According to the release, the present Coffee Act was enacted in 1942 and it has many provisions which are not relevant. It was decided in the meeting to completely take a relook at the provisions of the Act and to remove the ones which are restrictive and regulatory and bring-out a simple Act that suits to the present needs of the coffee sector and facilitates it's growth. ENS

Kabul airport attacker was in India, says IS magazine

M P PRASHANTH @Kozhikode

ISLAMIC State (IS) has claimed that the suicide bomber who killed around 180 people at the Kabul airport on August 26 was arrested in Delhi five years ago and was deported to Afghanistan after being imprisoned for five years.

The new edition of the IS magazine 'Voice of Hind' said: "By the grace of Allah, a soldier of the Khilafah, Abdur Rahman al-Logri, carried out an istishadhi (suicide attack) operation. The brother was arrested five years ago in India, when he had travelled to Delhi to carry out an istishadhi operation on the cow-worshipping Hindus in revenge for Kashmir."

"But Allah had decreed otherwise, the brother was tested with imprisonment and was deported to Afghanistan. Staying true to his promise to Allah, the brother didn't go home, rather carried out his operation, his heart filled with tranquility and pleasure," it said.

The magazine's 20th edition did not say anything about the operation in Delhi or how and when he was arrested.

The National Investigation Agency had arrested three persons from Kashmir two months ago for circulating 'Voice of Hind', a digital magazine brought out by Ansarul Khilafa Al Hind, the IS module in India.

Forest dept helpless as it loses land to judiciary

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

NORMALLY if forest land is encroached, the forest department approaches courts, seeks orders and recovers the land. But here is a case in Kolar, where the department is feeling helpless as deemed forest land is being used for the construction of a judiciary complex.

The property in contention is deemed forest land on Survey Number 14 spread across 9.30 acres. Karnataka Forest Department officials said, "As per government, cabinet and court orders, the land was declared as a deemed forest in 2017 after a thorough survey and exercise. The orders to survey the land and identify forest patches were issued in 2014. The land records were also changed. But one-and-a-half-years ago, the then Kolar deputy commissioner handed over the land to the judiciary to construct the complex. On Saturday, a team of lawyers also visited the site along with Public Works Department officials to survey the land."

But as per government records, the land belongs to the forest department. "This is happening because the deputy commissioner's office had not updated its records. Despite cabinet and court orders, revenue records still show the area as gomala (pasture) land. Now we are unable to file a complaint as the party involved is the judiciary. We are urging the deputy commissioner to set things right by either cancelling the orders or giving the judiciary an alternative piece of land. Entering forest premises without permission is also a violation as per rules," the forest officials said.

On August 21, the Senior Civil Judge and Judicial Magistrate First Class of Malur wrote to the assistant executive engineer, Department of Works, Ports and Inland Transport, to hand over the land to PWD to carry out a total station survey for a new court complex, an advocates' association building and residential quarters for judicial officers.

Parents await govt response on fee order

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @Bengaluru

PARENTS association are seeking the government's official response to the Karnataka high court's decision on Friday regarding slashing school fees by 15 per cent for the academic year 2020-21. The high court's order quashed the state government's earlier order of a 30 per cent fee reduction.

Voice of Parents, the parents association on social media wrote to the chief minister, "We dont see any tweets from you on the high court order striking down govt order of 70% school fees for year 20-21. Request you to let us know govt stand on this matter." He further asked the government to constitute a fee determination committee.

CRAZY, CHAOTIC, CAPRICIOUS NORMS OF COVID TRAVEL

THE THIRD EYE

SHANKKAR AIYAR
Author of The Gated Republic, Aadhaar: A Biometric History of India's 12 Digit Revolution, and Accidental India
shankkar.aiyar@gmail.com

A old maxim frequently attributed to Archimedes of Syracuse, states that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line. The truism is being upended by countries when it comes to travel in the times of Covid19!

Chaos engineered by crazy policies has driven travellers traversing parts of the world they may or may not have wished to see for reaching places they desperately want to — despite being fully vaccinated and regardless of the RTPCR test reports they carry.

Students headed to Toronto last month were forced to travel from Mumbai to Doha to Cairo to Frankfurt to Toronto. The most 'liked' route to the US till recently was via 14 days in Mexico — Atmanirbhar travellers from Mumbai stuck in Mexico even cooked their own meals for a break from beans! This week, the preferred route is via Dubai.

One need not be a subscriber to conspiracy theories to recognise that travel protocols are capricious and suffer from confirmation bias to say the least. This is the result of the blending of creative inertia bureaucracies revel in with perverse pre-emptive politics. Countries have the right to allow or refuse entry to folks from other countries. Equally in a rule-based world, this determination cannot be divorced from science and promised allegiance to global cooperation.

Nine months since Margaret Keenan was administered the Covid19 jab in the UK, over 5.85 billion persons have been vaccinated. Almost every country has endorsed the role of vaccinations to fight the pandemic. Theoretically, vaccination and RTPCR test should clear travellers — in fact, double vaccination is deemed adequate for work and travel within countries. The contours defining geopolitical responses though tell a different story.

The state of affairs is illuminated by norms of entry to the 'land of the free and home of the brave'. Since May 4, Indians and persons of 32 other countries cannot enter the US unless they show proof that they have been out of the geographies for over 14 days even if they are fully vaccinated and adhere to test requirements. What makes the policy curious is the narrative articulated by data.

The US on Friday topped the chart on daily fresh cases, new deaths and active cases. On September 17, the New York Times Tracker shows that the US recorded 165,465 new cases and 1,992 deaths — and its seven-day average case count stood at 148,816. Comparisons may be odious, and trigger the predictable posit on testing and reporting, but it does bear mention that the caseload is five times that of India and, perhaps, much more when compared to 32 other countries on the list.

The US is scarcely alone. The virus of stall, at all costs, afflicts policies elsewhere too. Canada is home to a large Indian diaspora and thousands of students. The ban on direct flights has grounded many or forced multi-country circular travels. In a recent travel guideline, Canada agreed to allow Indians who are double vaccinated into the country if they get an RTPCR test done in a third country. Why a third country? Might it be an implicit and unstated inference distrust of testing standards?

Trust deficit afflicts recognition of vaccines, too. Covishield, administered to nearly 700 million Indians, is recognised by the European Medicines Agency and in 15 European countries. Bizarrely even though the vaccine is based on the Oxford AstraZeneca, it has struggled for recognition in the UK. India has been flagging these concerns but clearly it needs to leverage its status further to achieve outcomes.

The chaos unravelling across the world illuminates the pusillanimity of the World Health Organisation particularly with respect to the sanctity of vaccinations, testing standards and travel protocols — forced journeys across unnecessary geographies can only widen the scope for the virus. The often cited authority on matters relating to the pandemic has sadly been a mute spectator of aggravated 'otherism' being practiced. Waiting for the WHO to act is like waiting for Godot.

The pandemic promises to persist as demonstrated by the havoc wreaked by the Delta variant. With over 90 per cent of the global population yet to be vaccinated, virus mutations are a given. There is the socio-political cost, the threat of regime instability and then there is the economic price that the world is paying in lost jobs and incomes. Indeed, the relaxations promised by the UK this week are catalysed by mounting public pressure. Evidently, there is nothing as effective as public hardship to shake off delusions.

The free money regime — which even G7 countries can illafford — has its limitations and the nervousness about growth is palpable across markets. Services account for nearly two thirds of global GDP — and every sector in the face-to-face economy, education, hospitality, travel et al continue to be stranded between hope and despair. Without a globally funded programme for vaccinations and a universally accepted protocol for economic engagement, the global economy will only lurch from one wave to another.

It is not enough for leaders to lip sync clichés such as "we are all in this together". The pantheon of global leaders clearly needs to come together to pave the pathway to the next normal.

HAPPENINGS AFTER KAMBA RAMAYANAM

POINT OF VIEW

T J S GEORGE

IT is rather foolish, politically and socially, to question what God does. But sometimes God himself makes us raise questions. Familiar legends tell us about what happened one day when he allowed leaders of the world's great democracies to meet him and ask him any questions. This is what followed.

Joe Biden asked God: "When will America become the most magnificent nation on earth admired by all?" God said: "In about five years."" Biden burst into tears. "Five years? I won't be around to see it."

Then Boris Johnson asked God how long it will take Great Britain to become a magnificent nation admired by all. God said: "About 25 years." Johnson started crying: "Twenty-five years? I won't be around to see it."

It was then the turn of Narendra Modi, impeccably groomed, to ask God in shudh Hindi how long it will take India to become a splendid land admired by all. On hearing this, God burst into tears. Through sobs, God said: "I won't be around to see it."

Didn't Kamba Ramayanam envisage India as a splendid land admired by all for the godliness that prevailed among its people? Kambar looked at Ayodhya and wrote: "There were no guards because there were no thieves. None ever gave for none ever took. Since no one in that city ever stopped learning, none was ignorant and none fully learned. Since everyone had as much as he needed, none was poor and none rich."

In today's India everyone is either poor or rich, none is learned and all are ignorant, none ever gives but all ever take. But we need not worry. If Kambar has become irrelevant, Narendra Modi has emerged not only relevant but ever ready to jump into action. He is already out with 'Ayodhya Vision – 2047,' an elaborate plan to celebrate the 100th anniversary of India's Independence. It may be 26 long years away, but Modiji is a far-sighted leader whose ability to foresee things and plan well ahead has already benefited India as citizens know. Reports say that he plans to develop Ayodhya as a modern city even as its ancient cultural heritage is maintained intact. UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath is currently an inspired man. He is bursting with ideas of making Ayodhya an "international spiritual city" and the "City of Ram." Given his record, Adityanath might well end up making a mess of the city. When it was Faizabad, the first capital of the Nawabs of Awadh, it had the grandeur of an imperial capital. After Yogi Adityanath renamed the district as Ayodhya in 2018, life has been patriotically dull.

These are days when Valmiki is forgotten and Tulsidas alone commands attention. Adi Kavi Valmiki, who composed the Adi Kavya, had a literary grandeur that was in a class of its own. His Kavya remained a literary work for more than 20 centuries until Tulsidas transformed it into a religious text in the 16th century. Religion gained, literature lost.

> The way Ramayana spread to the cultures of Southeast Asia is a phenomenon by itself. When you land in Jakarta, the first thing you notice is the imposing statue of Krishnopadesam just outside the exit gates.

Tulsidas made changes in Valmiki's text with abandon. Valmiki's Hanuman, for example, was a human belonging to the vanara tribe while Tulsidas turned him into an undisguised monkey. Valmiki's Dasaratha had 350 wives, Tulsidas reduced it to three. In Valmiki's original, Sita was kidnapped by Ravana. In the Tulsidas version, the kidnapped Sita was a clone of the real Sita; Rama had handed over the real Sita to Lord Agni before the kidnapping took place. The titles further underline the difference between the two versions. Valmiki wrote Ramayana while Tulsidas wrote Ramacharitmanas. Tamil poet Kambar made it even more obvious by naming his work Ramavataram.

The way Ramayana spread to the cultures of Southeast Asia is a phenomenon by itself. When you land in Jakarta, the first thing you notice is the imposing statue of Krishnopadesam just outside the exit gates. In Bali, the statue of Ghatotkacha in his magnificent chariot dominates the geography. There are 4,600 Hindu temples in Bali and Vijaya Dasami is a national holiday there. But don't miss the point that these are cultural rather than religious features of life in that country. Indonesia's national hero Sukarno was named after Karnan. The Wayang puppet shows built around Ramayana episodes are popular round the year. Indonesia's national bank is named after Kubera while its national airline is Garuda Indonesia.

We should see these as evidence of the cultural influence India exerted in days gone by. To see them as proof of India's supremacy would be foolish. Rather, we should see them as proof of the influence India has lost in the course of politics.

A GENERAL CANNOT SET NARRATIVE IN DEMOCRACY

POWER & POLITICS

PRABHU CHAWLA

Follow him on Twitter @PrabhuChawla

POWER is the akshayapatra of greed which never satiates the high and mighty. Establishment figures are geniuses at finding ways and means outside the institutional monolith to expand their empire. Normally, the war to enlarge fiefdoms is waged by politicians and civil servants. In a rare aberration, a General has joined their ranks. Our Oliver Twist in uniform Bipin Rawat, the current Chief of Defence Staff (CDS), is a man in a hurry — a Military Machiavelli plotting and parleying to be India's most powerful official in uniform since Independence. Currently, he is the CDS as well as Principal Military Advisor to the Defence Minister, Secretary Military Affairs, and Military Advisor to the Nuclear Command Authority. He was Army chief for over three years and enjoyed a great reputation as a disciplined soldier. His term was extended by the Modi government to 65 years. A day before retirement, he was appointed CDS on December 31, 2019. This bump up has made him the first officer in olive green to perform the dual role of Secretary and CSD.

Rawat's deployment was supposed to be part of the reform moves in the defence establishment. But he has behaved more like a political general of some monarchy than the head of the world's second largest Army with great battle pedigree and discipline. By criticising agitating students and marshaling his verbs against CAA last year, he provided arsenal to the opposition raising doubts over his professional conduct. Former Home Minister P Chidambaram asked him to "head the Army and mind your business." But Rawat's business is, according to his detractors, the accumulation of power — he has taken Chidambaram's advice too literally. The original proposal mandated the CDS to coordinate among Army, Navy and Air Force and ensure optimum acquisition, deployment and utilization of assets.

Ignoring the military convention of discretion, Rawat rarely hides his aspirations. Last week, he crafted a new future role for himself. While there is no official statement from the government including the PM and the Defence Minister on the future contours of the defence leadership, Rawat spelt out its architecture in a public speech. The existing 17 single-service Commands would be shrunk to four geographical commands by drawing assets from all the three services. Imitating the Western concept of theatre command which comprise officers from all three services, India will have a similar structure to deal with new threat perceptions and initiate a quick response. But Rawat didn't stick to structural modifications. He has weighed in on the hierarchy too. "The chiefs will be responsible for raising, training, and sustaining functions of their services" and " the war will be fought by the theatre commanders on a plan approved by the Chief of Staff Committee (CoSC)," he said. "In the long run, what we are looking at is the theatre commanders will become operational commanders, reporting to the CoSC chairman," he disclosed.

Currently, core commanders of each service report to their chief and take instructions from him. Now the rapacious CDS will lead operations and the services chiefs will be reduced to mere stenographers. In his great wisdom and magnanimity, the General might consult them if he deems fit. In the absence of public documentation, defence experts see this usurping as professional imperialism, since the move is contrary to the terms and conditions of Rawat's appointment. The defence ministry had informed Parliament that the CDS' duties and functions are the following:

- Head the Dept of Military Affairs in MoD and function as its Secretary.
- Act as the principal military advisor to Raksha Mantri on all tri-service matters
- Function as the Permanent Chairman of the Chiefs of Staff Committee
- Administer the tri-service organizations/agencies/commands.
- To be a member of Defence Acquisition Council.
- Function as the Military Advisor to the Nuclear Command Authority.
- Bring about jointness in operation, logistics, transport, training, support services, communications, repairs and maintenance, etc of the three services.
- Ensure optimal utilisation of infrastructure and rationalise it through jointness among the services.
- Implement Five-Year Defence Capital Acquisition Plan and Two-Year roll-on Annual Acquisition Plans, as a follow up of Integrated Capability Development Plan.
- Assign inter-services prioritisation to capital acquisition proposals based on the anticipated budget.

Soon after his appointment, news items based on government sources clarified the CDS would be "first among equals as the permanent Chairman of CoSC and lead a new department of military affairs even though he would be a four star general with same pay and perks like the three service chiefs who will retain full operational control over their forces." In his capacity as Principal Military Adviser to the Defence Minister, the CDS would offer his advice, but only on tri-services matters and would not exercise military command. The powers of the Service chiefs, including advising the government, wouldn't be disturbed or transferred to the CDS. Since then, no authority either reviewed or redefined Rawat's powers and functions. Only the Cabinet Committee on Security is empowered to decide on sensitive matters.

Historically, the decision to overhaul the Indian defence establishment was taken after the Kargil Review Committee report by K Subrahmanyam, which recommended not only the appointment of a NSA but also unified planning. There was not a whiff about a CDS or theatre commands. The report was partially implemented by Vajpayee when he appointed Brijesh Mishra as NSA. Mishra was the Principal Secretary to the PM, too. For the next 20 years, all recommendations went to the shredder or were sent for a quiet burial in the paper mountains of various panels and committees. Soon after becoming the CDS, Rawat took up pending suggestions which gives him greater scope to rule the forces unchecked. It is a work in process. For now, the General has received a setback due to serious objections raised by senior defence officials.

Irrespective of inter-services rivalry, the concept of theatre commands could be implemented soon. But the battle plan is yet be decided. The defence ministry is studying how 67 countries with a CDS playing a significant role in defining strategy, are faring. In the US, the CDS reports directly to the President who is the Commander-in-Chief. In England, the CDs reports to the Prime Minister. Since India is parliamentary democracy which operates through the Cabinet, the pecking position of the CDS becomes very complex. The entire defence establishment reports to the Defence Minister. All the three chiefs and the CDS advise him on military affairs. At the same time, the PM is advised by the NSA on military affairs, who also enjoys Cabinet Minister status.

On the other hand, Rawat has significantly sanitised the defence equipment acquisition system and brought in a degree of transparency. But his predatory pleonexia to lead India's combat commands while keeping the administration gripped in his mailed fist is causing discomfiture in the establishment. Coddling a power hungry general on the prowl in conflict with the democratic hierarchy is setting a deplorable precedent. By planning an administrative coup d'etat in his establishment, Rawat is weakening one of India's few institutions that has never been compromised, or weakened by any avaricious aspirations of an individual.

Offload bank NPAs first

This is with reference to the editorial 'Fresh shot at disposing of stressed assets' (Sep 18). The Centre seems to be coming to the groove at last to work out the goal of monetization by disposing the non-performing assets. The government's proposal of creating a NARCL for this purpose is welcome. With this changeover, it is hoped that profit,-making organizations will not be sold or leased out on long-term basis for raising funds. On the other hand, conversion of certain NPAs into performing assets, selling sickly PSUs and unusable NPAs are the proper ways of the monetization conundrum. The immediate task is to dispose the NPAs lying with the commercial banks.

Stop communal rift

The Christians in Kerala are by and large non-communal, non aggressive and one that sees everyone equally because such tenets are inbuilt in the religion. Now, deliberately or inadvertently some seeds of rift are being planted. The trend is dangerous as it can sow distrust among communities. If there are crimes, it could be brought to the notice of either the minister concerned or the police. A blanket accusation is not the best way to do it.

Elizabeth Koshy, Pathanamthitta

Change in fiscal policy must

The editorial 'Fresh shot at disposing of stressed assets' (Sep 18) has oversimplified the issue relating to the worth of stressed assets. It is not enough that the assets are not merely worthless. It is banking basics that their value always cover the outstanding, at least till the stickiness is spotted. If that is ensured, there is no reason for haircuts to be as huge as 75 to 90 per cent. A sort of laissez faire is allowed to exist right from the point of sanction of the loans, large loans particularly, till resolution by selling at throwaway prices. Once written off from the balance sheet, not only banks but even the Government's seriousness about recovery also simply goes. Will such gross imprudence ever end in the country?

Practise what you preach

Though Tamil Nadu government announced that Periyar birthday as social justice day, most of the things spoken by Dravidian parties are otherwise. For the last 50 years, government ruled by both Dravidan parties said they are following Periyar's social justice way. But in reality, most of the villages have walls built in between, separate lakes and cemetery for communities. If they are serious about Periyar's social justice, they should totally eradicate caste discrimination in the villages without thinking about vote bank.

I-T search on Bollywood actor

For the past few days, Sonu Sood has been interrogated for tax evasion. Raids have been conducted at his house for three days. His non-profit charity foundation set up in July has gained over ₹18 crore till April yet only ₹1.9 crore has been spent on relief work and the rest ₹17 crore have been lying in its bank account. This is not the first time an actor is being interrogated for tax evasion and it won't be the last.

Conserving water resources

The article on 'Artistic water bodies of medieval Karnataka' wonderfully places before us the philosophy behind water management. The ancient wells have so much to teach our modern day city planners. It was considered as a duty by the kings to build water bodies for the peop;e. We are in the 21st century and water has become the most precious commodity. It is the basic need of humans but sadly some are deprived. Technology has reached a different height today, yet we struggle in managing our water resources. There is vast sprawl of uncontrolled urbanization over fresh water bodies. We either humble ourselves and learn from our ancestors or face a dire future.

Oppn doubtful of Cong capacity to take fight to BJP

Messy state of affairs in grand old party makes potential allies sceptical of launching nationwide movement against Modi government

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Chandigarh

AS the Congress tries to become the nucleus of opposition unity against the Modi government, several senior opposition leaders on Saturday questioned the grand old party's ability to take the fight to the BJP when it is engaged in infighting in several states.

As Amarinder Singh and Navjot Singh Sidhu's political fight played out in Punjab, National Conference leader Omar Abdullah questioned if the grand old party can take on the BJP. "Guess it's too much to expect Congress to take the fight to BJP when its state leaders are busy fighting among themselves. Ordinarily, I wouldn't give a toss about the fratricide in the Congress party -- their party, their business. However, what the Congress does have a direct fallout for every political party outside the NDA orbit because almost 200 Lok Sabha seats see a direct BJP-Congress fight," tweeted Abdullah.

On Friday, Trinamool Congress mouthpiece, 'Jaago Bangla', sparked a controversy suggesting that West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee should be the opposition's face against Prime Minister Narendra Modi as Congress leader Rahul Gandhi has "failed to emerge as a powerful leader".

This comes close in line with NCP chief and veteran leader Sharad Pawar linking Congress to impoverished landlords who think they still wield power and that the grand old party should accept the reality that it has weakened over the years.

"Congress leaders in almost every state are fighting against each other. There is no end to it. Congress should first put its house in order before looking at leading the opposition bloc against the BJP," said an opposition leader, adding though it is the party's internal affair.

Sidhu anti-national: Captain

Calling Navjot Sidhu anti-national, dangerous, unstable, incompetent and a security threat to the state and the country, Amarinder said he will fight till the end. Saying he had no intention of quitting politics, Amarinder said, "I will continue to fight issues that are bad for Punjab and its people. No question of quitting politics."

Message for leaders locked in duels?

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

AFTER a tough stand taken by the high command to end the power tussle in Punjab, the focus will now be on settling internal feuds in two other Congress-ruled states — Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh — where the party is facing similar trouble over power sharing.

A senior Congress leader said the decision to ask Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh to step down is a signal to Ashok Gehlot in Rajasthan and Bhupesh Bhagel in Chhattisgarh. Both are entwined in similar battles in their states.

Like in Punjab, Congress has been trying to amicably settle differences between the leaders. But if that does not work, tough decisions may have to be taken. This can also be seen a message to the dissenting group of leaders (G23), who have been questioning the leadership over several issues.

Trouble between Gehlot and former Rajasthan Congress chief Sachin Pilot is growing, with the latter pushing for a change of guard. A temporary truce formula was worked out between the two after a botched coup attempt by Pilot in 2020.

"Gehlot has been not agreeing to the formula of cabinet expansion to induct MLAs from Pilot's camp. He is not even coming to Delhi, citing some reason or the other. Focus in the coming days will be on Rajasthan," said sources.

The party high command is also keeping an eye on Chhattisgarh, where Baghel and his cabinet minister TS Singh Deo are at crossroads over change of guard. Former Congress chief Rahu Gandhi has held a series of meetings with both over the promise of rotational CM made to Singh Deo at the time of government formation. "Baghel has been given a lifeline for the time being and Deo has been assured that the promise of rotational CM will be fulfilled. We may see progress on this front after Assembly polls," said another leader.

Cong drama keeps BJP interested in Punjab

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

THE BJP is keeping a hawk's eye on the developments in Punjab. Party leaders believe it will not be smooth for Congress to handle a leadership change in the state, especially with Assembly elections around the corner. The saffron camp thinks President's Rule or early elections can't be ruled out, if outgoing CM Amarinder Singh demonstrates his strength in the next few days.

Drawing parallels
BJP's RP Singh likened the Punjab Congress situation to the duel between Darbara Singh and Giani Zail Singh in the 1980s, which he alleged, pushed the state to terrorism

Singh's resignation was keenly followed by BJP leaders who recaled the Congress veteran's meetings with PM Narendra Modi and Union Minister for Home Affairs Amit Shah last month, when he had been caught in a war with Navjot Singh Siddhu. The transfer of the Governor Banwari Lal Purohit from Tamil Nadu to Punjab recently is now seen within BJP as a planned move.

Purohit, a political veteran, is likely to exercise utmost caution and scrutiny in the transition of the government, said a senior BJP functionary, who added that the prospects of political instability in Punjab will have national security implications as well, considering its proximity with Pakistan.

Amarinder and BJP share a common bond in practising political nationalism, besides being on the common page over their anxiety to stop AAP from coming to power in the state.

The contentious farm laws have seemingly turned the BJP into a struggling political outfit in Punjab. Yet, Punjab for BJP is a state ripe for political experiments. The saffron outfit will also be willing to play a tactical role in the Assembly elections in February next year.

BJP is already free from the alliance with Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) and the top brass is learnt to have told state leaders that there's nothing to lose in the state, which should make them ready for experiments.

For the record, the BJP national general secretary Tarun Chugh said that the Congress in Punjab is licking the dust to revive itself. He added that the manner in which a panic meeting of the Congress legislature party was summoned reflected adequately the panic and confusion among the ranks of the grand old party.

We all liked the leadership of Sonia Gandhi. But for two years we have not had a permanent president. That must be remedied. We need to instill energy in the organisational structure of the Congress party—Shashi Tharoor, Congress

Congress has cheated the people of Punjab. They do not care about the welfare of Punjab, but their own personal happiness. Congress is a sinking Titanic that has neither vision nor commitment—Raghav Chadha, AAP

Congress first forced a humiliating exit for Sunil Jhakkar by appointing Sidhu and has now sacrificed Amarinder. But Punjabis are astute and understand that Congress has failed miserably to govern the state—Ashwani Sharma, Punjab BJP chief

Amarinder's resignation is a self admission by Congress that the party has failed Punjab. They have nothing to show for nearly five years of governance. It failed to undertake any development or infra project —Sukhbir Singh Badal, SAD

Quiet in Chhattisgarh for now, but leadership split not ruled out

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE Congress crisis in Punjab has reignited speculation over leadership that continues to be rife in Chhattisgarh over the power-sharing formula (read rotation of chief minister).

It is a 'wait and watch' situation over a possible change of guard in the Congress-run state even though Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel has reiterated the assertion of AICC's state incharge PL Punia that no significant discussion has been held with the high command over the change of leadership.

Health minister TS Singh Deo, who last month said to have reminded former Congress president Rahul Gandhi of the promise of sharing the chief minister's post, had later claimed, "The party high command has kept its decision safe and reserved on the issue. And every Congressmen will have to comply with the directive that we receive from Delhi".

Amid the unspoken internal rift, Singh Deo did not hide his wishes to become 'the captain if the person plays in a team'. However, he had avoided adding fuel to speculations.

According to the Congress insiders, the party's central leaders seem to have put the decision over power-sharing on hold owing to apparent differences between Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra over change of leadership.

"While Priyanka apparently is not in favour of any leadership change in Chhattisgarh, perhaps till the Uttar Pradesh Assembly polls keeping in mind the prospect of the Congress, Rahul evidently stands by the commitment given to Baghel and Singh Deo," said a senior Congress leader on condition of anonymity.

THE DOWNFALL

Proximity to Sonia didn't help Captain

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE change of guard in Punjab was not an overnight decision and it was in the offing for some time now but the proverbial final straw came after 40 party MLAs wrote to Congress chief Sonia Gandhi seeking a change of guard.

With a majority of MLAs not by his side, outgoing Chief Minister Amarinder Singh tendered his resignation, saying he felt "humiliated" over the events in the past two months.

"The change was needed. He didn't have the numbers on his side to pressure the high command to rule in his favour. That was used by Sidhu and MLAs from his camp to show him the door," said a top Congress leader.

It was seemingly a tough decision for Congress president Sonia Gandhi keeping in mind her close association with Amarinder since Rajiv Gandhi's time. Amarinder spoke to her in the morning after a Congress Legislature Party meeting was called by the party high command, bypassing his authority, and apprised her about his decision to quit.

Sources said former party chief Rahul Gandhi and general secretary Priyanka Gandhi-Vadra wanted to replace him but Sonia was holding on to take a final call on it.

Coming from a royal family and known for his regal style of living, Amarinder himself had said that he had not met Rahul in the last two years and that he would to talk directly to Sonia.

Many a time he had toed a line that was different from the party's official stand on national issues.

Sources said it was Priyanka who had pushed for Sidhu's elevation as the Punjab Pradesh Congress Committee chief in July this year despite strong objections from Amarinder. Since then, Sidhu and Amarinder have been engaged in a battle for supremacy, which ended in the latter's exit as the chief minister in two months.

Centre asks states to monitor infection spread among kids

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Centre, in a national review meeting of the coronavirus status in India on Saturday, asked states to closely monitor infection spread in children, considering that a few states have reopened schools. The instruction comes amid concerns that kids may be more vulnerable to infection if there is a next wave in India.

In August-September, physical classes in many states, mainly for secondary and senior secondary students and also for primary level kids in some states, have begun. Union cabinet secretary Rajiv Gauba asked state health administrators to undertake granular analysis of their Covid trajectory, ramp up health infrastructure, undertake stocking of medicines and augment human resources, to meet any surge in cases.

In 15 states with 70 districts where Covid-19 cases still remain a major concern (34 of these districts have positivity exceeding 10% and in 36 districts, positivity is in the range of 5%-10%), authorities were asked to pay extra attention on curbing the spread of cases.

In view of the festive season, states were directed to ensure necessary precautions and effective enforcement for avoidance of mass gatherings and congested closed spaces. The Centre insisted that existing guidelines regarding malls, local markets and places of worship are to be followed.

States were also instructed to monitor the case trajectories in all districts on a daily basis to identify early warning signals and ensure imposition of restrictions.

Gauba also suggested carrying out a district-level review and ensuring that adequate medical infrastructure and supplies commensurate with projected requirements are urgently mobilised.

In addition, the health ministry has asked states to implement intensive containment and active surveillance in clusters reporting high cases and not delay imposition of restrictions and raising testing while maintaining RT-PCR ratio. It has also asked states to ensure prompt commissioning of PSA plants, oxygen cylinders, concentrators and ventilators and to carry out regular reviews.

Bangladeshis on top of 'crime by foreigners' list for 2020: NCRB report

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

THE government has repeatedly expressed concern over the presence of Rohingya migrants in the country, claiming them to be a threat to national security. But these claims were not reflected in the recently-released National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) report. An analysis of the report for 2020 shows that Myanmar nationals accounted for around 2% of the crimes allegedly committed by foreigners in India.

There was no case of terror, rape or possessing arms against Myanmar nationals. Crimes allegedly committed by nationals of Bangladesh, Nigeria and Nepal in India were substantially more than crimes allegedly committed by Myanmarese.

According to NCRB data, 7,686 foreigners were caught on the wrong side of the law in India in 2020. Bangladeshis had the highest share (25.4%), followed by Nigerians (5.5%) and Nepalese (3.3%). Myanmarese accounted for 2.3%.

Notably, a dip was observed in crimes committed by foreigners, as well as in crimes committed against foreigners in 2020. The fall in cases is in keeping with the larger national trend in which a decrease in "traditional crimes" was seen.

Shah says Cong sees tribals as vote bank, has done nothing for them

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

UNION home minister Amit Shah on Saturday said no party has done as much as the BJP has done for tribal welfare.

Addressing Guarav Utsav (part of the ongoing Azadi ka Amrut Mahotsava celebrations) in Jabalpur's Garrison Ground to commemorate the 163rd anniversary of Gondwana king Raja Shankar Shah and his son Kunwar Raghunath Shah's martyrdom in the first war of India's independence, Shah said, "Congress has only talked about tribal welfare to get tribal votes, but has done nothing for their well-being. But, the BJP is committed and is working religiously for tribal welfare at the Centre and in the states, where it is in power. The tribals should not let those people succeed who are trying to divide them for political gains."

He listed a series of measures for tribal welfare taken by the Narendra Modi government, including raising allocation for tribal communities in the Union budget from ₹4,200 crore 2013-14 to ₹7,900 crore in 2021-22 and raising budget component for tribal development in various ministries from ₹21,500 crore in 2013-14 to ₹78,900 crore in 2021-22.

"The Modi government has also set up 18 Tribal Research Institutes in its first term and increased them to 27 in the second term," Shah said.

Lamenting that the contributions of tribal icons/heroes in India's freedom struggle are not being highlighted by historians, Shah said, "We firmly believe that the tribal heroes have contributed much more than others in the country's freedom struggle right from 1780 to 1947, but still remained largely unsung." He added, "This is where ongoing Azadi ka Amrut Mahotsava holds significance, as it is aimed at reviving and preserving memories of tribal leaders and other unsung heroes of the country's war for freedom. No one can think of forgetting the contributions of our freedom heroes, but the historians have forgotten contributions of our tribal heroes of the country's freedom struggle."

Sonu Sood evaded ₹20 cr in tax, violated FCRA: I-T dept

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

BOLLYWOOD actor Sonu Sood, whose properties were raided by the income tax department recently, evaded more than tax ₹20 crore tax, the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) said on Saturday. Besides, the actor violated the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act (FCRA) by raising ₹2.1 crore from overseas donors, CBDT added.

According to the tax department, the actor used his NGO Sood Charity Foundation to collect donations. The NGO collected ₹18.94 crore since 1 April 2021 but spent only ₹1.9 crore towards various relief works; the remaining ₹17 crore was found lying unutilised in the bank account of the Foundation.

The tax department claimed that Sood used to route his unaccounted income in the form of bogus unsecured loans from many bogus entities. Investigations so far have found 20 such entries, it added. "They have accepted to have issued cheques in lieu of cash. There have been instances where professional receipts have been camouflaged as loans in the books of accounts for the purpose of evasion of tax," a CBDT statement read. Earlier, I-T sleuths had conducted a search and seizure operation at various premises of the actor in Mumbai and a Lucknow-based real estate development firm with which Sood has links. A total of 28 properties in Mumbai, Lucknow, Kanpur, Jaipur, Delhi, and Gurgaon were searched.

No question of alliance with BJP, says Sanjay Raut

Uddhav's recent comment that a BJP leader is his future colleague had set off rumour mills

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

AFTER Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray called a BJP leader a future colleague, Shiv Sena leader Sanjay Raut said the CM's comment must not be misunderstood or seen as a hint that the Sena will join hands with the BJP soon.

Uddhav, while speaking at an event recently, called the Union minister for state Raosaheb Danve a future colleague of his. The remark had led to speculation that the two parties, once allies, may join hands again.

Sanjay Raut

However, Raut said what Uddhav meant was that many BJP leaders are planning to join the Shiv Sena, therefore, these BJP leaders will become future colleagues of those in the Shiv Sena.

Raut asserted that there is no question of Shiv Sena allying with the BJP. "Maha Vikas Aghadi will complete five years under the leadership of Uddhav Thackeray. It is not in the nature of the Shiv Sena to do backstabbing. Whatever we say it's straight, not one thing here and something there. Our party has an alliance with the Congress and the NCP, and therefore, there is no question of breaking with them and joining hands with the BJP," Raut clarified.

Raut said many BJP MLAs are fed up with their party. "Many BJP leaders, particularly MLAs are fed up with the party. They lost their trust and faith in the BJP leadership. The BJP leadership tried to keep them in the party by assuring them, from time to time, that the Maha Vikas Aghadi will fail," Raut said.

NCP minister and chief spokesperson Nawab Malik confirmed that there are several BJP MLAs who are ready to jump the ship. He said, the BJP has no future in Maharashtra. After party MLAs realised that the Maha Vikas Aghadi is here to stay, they have become agitated with the BJP leadership.

Supriyo joins TMC in major jolt to BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

BHARATIYA Janata Party sitting MP and former union minister Babul Supriyo joined the Trinamool Congress on Saturday, jolting the saffron camp ahead of the high-voltage by-election in the Bhowanipore Assembly constituency where chief minister Mamata Banerjee is contesting.

The singer-turned-two-time MP, without being spotted by anyone, turned up at the Trinamool office and started his new political venture in the presence of TMC national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee and Rajya Sabha MP Derek O'Brien.

Neither the BJP nor the TMC's other senior functionaries had any information about Supriyo's defection. The Asansol MP, who announced his retirement from politics on July 31 after being axed from Prime Minister Narendra Modi's cabinet, said everything happened in last three days after a meeting with O'Brien.

Referring to his retirement announcement on social media two months ago, Supriyo said he stood by the decision. "Every single word I had written in the post was from the heart. I took the decision wholeheartedly. Whatever I said in the social media post was from the heart and with the same heart, I accepted the exciting opportunity offered by Mamata Banerjee and Abhishek Banerjee," he said. Supriyo, however, did not disclose the "opportunity" in detail saying everything would be clear within a day or two. There is a strong buzz in Bengal's political circle that Supriyo might be nominated to the Rajya Sabha where a seat became vacant after Arpita Ghosh resigned three days ago.

Former Union Minister and sitting MP Babul Supriyo (C) with TMC National General Secretary Abhishek Banerjee (R) and party's RS MP Derek Ô Brien in Kolkata | PTI

Expressing his unhappiness after being axed from the union cabinet on July 7, Supriyo said, "I served the people of Bengal for seven years since 2014. The people of Asansol know what I did for them. Suddenly, my journey came to a halt with a full stop. In 2019, I and my family were shocked when I was made only a minister of state. You all know what power an MOS has."

After announcing his decision to quit politics, BJP high-command, including national president J P Nadda, held a meeting with Supriyo and persuaded him against resigning as a Lok Sabha member. Since then, Supriyo stopped all his political activities. He also turned down the BJP's request to campaign in Bhowanipore.

50 RAJASTHAN COPS GUILTY OF SEXUAL CRIMES: REPORT

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AT least 50 personnel of the Rajasthan Police have been involved in various sexual crimes, according to a probe by the state police HQ into sexual crimes committed by police personnel.

The report comes just days after an intimate video of an RPS officer and a woman constable went viral on social media and led to the suspension of the two of them.

According to the report, prepared on the direction of the DGP, about 50 police officials from the state have been involved in various sexual crimes. In addition, more than 400 others are involved in other dubious activities like taking bribes, collaborating with opium and liquor smugglers.

The report was prepared following an incident in Jaipur where an Assistant Commissioner of Police had sought sexual favours as a bribe from a rape victim. The ACP, Kailash Bohra, was caught red-handed by the state's Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) when he made sexual advances to a rape victim. The rape survivor, in her complaint to the ACB, alleged that the ACP initially demanded a bribe for acting on her FIR, but later, sought sexual favours and had forced her to visit him after office hours. The ACP was sacked by the Gehlot government in March this year.

The Director-General of Police (DGP) M L Lather asked for a confidential report on police personnel involved in sexual crimes. It comes after a number of embarrassing cases of sexual crimes by state police officials in recent years.

Tejashwi to hold day-long meet with Jharkhand functionaries

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav will on Sunday hold a day-long conference with party workers from 81 Assembly constituencies of Jharkhand with a view to strengthening the party's organisation in the state.

Political experts are calling it an attempt by the young leader to regain his party's lost ground in the state after many of its prominent leaders like Annapurna Devi and Giriraj Singh joined other parties.

"During the day-long workers' conference, Tejaswi will give tips on making the organisation stronger. He will try to induce fresh energy, passion and excitement among party workers coming from all 24 districts of the state," said state RJD president Abhay Singh.

This is Tejaswi's first-ever formal political programme in the state. He will try to convey to party workers that it is time to pull up their socks and strengthen the party organization in such a way that the party returns to its previous role as the king-maker in Jharkhand, he added.

Party insiders also revealed that, as per the roadmap prepared under 'Mission Jharkhand', Tejashwi will visit Jharkhand for at least two days every month. Meanwhile, efforts will be made to win confidence of prominent RJD leaders who have left the party, they said.

"It is also an effort to make a dent in the increasing stature of Annapurna Devi among Yadav voters in Jharkhand. RJD, after Lalu Prasad Yadav's release from the jail, wants to regain the lost ground at least among Yadav voters and return to its role of king-maker in Jharkhand," said a party insider requesting anonymity. Looking at the popularity of Tejaswi among young voters, RJD believes only he could help the party get back on its feet, he added.

CM Dhami to lead BJP in Uttarakhand elections

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

PRALHAD Joshi, in-charge of the BJP's election committee in Uttarakhand on Sunday announced that the party will contest next year's Assembly elections under the leadership of Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami, sending a signal to state party leaders to stop fighting with each other.

"We will contest the state Assembly elections under the leadership of CM Pushkar Singh Dhami. The people of Uttarakhand will support us because they know our work," said Joshi.

State cabinet minister Harak Singh Rawat and ousted former CM Trivendra Singh Rawat have been making statements against each other for the last few days.

Pushkar Singh Dhami

Party insiders said Joshi has instructed the state party leaders to not fight with each other.

Last week, Harak Singh Rawat, a state cabinet minister said he saved ousted Chief Minister Trivendra Singh Rawat (TSR) from being sent to prison by the then chief minister Harish Rawat in 2014 over 'Dhaincha Seed Scam'.

Responding to this, an enraged Trivendra Singh Rawat had likened Harak Singh Rawat to a donkey.

These statements threw open the rift inside the party and have given the opposition enough ammunition to attack it. A senior party leader said, "Joshi Ji has asked the state leadership and other leaders to end the infighting and focus on elections. Strict instructions have been issued to not repeat such instance again."

Joshi and two other BJP leaders have been camping in the state. Apart from internal rivalries, the party also faces a fresh challenge in the state in the form of Aam Admi Party.

The BJP is closely watching every move made by Arvind Kejriwal-led party.

The ruling BJP's principal concern will be to fend off the challenge from the former chief minister and senior Congress leader Harish Rawat, who enjoys popular support across the state.

Amid this, Kejriwal's entry has only added to the concerns. "The Kejriwal-led outfit will most likely field disgruntled leaders from both BJP and Congress. If such leaders enjoy mass support, then they will damage the prospects of both the Congress and the BJP," said a senior BJP functionary.

A letter to medical superintends of the hospitals stated that these units are to be made functional within a short period. Doctors said there are concerns about a possible third Covid-19 wave.

800 Jadavpur varsity students yet to get first dose

As many as 800 students of Jadavpur University are yet to get even the first dose of their Covid vaccination. About, 2,000 students said they have gotten the first dose. The findings of a survey, which the university carried out among its students, have been shared with the higher education department, which had sought reports from colleges and universities on the status of vaccination among students. JU teachers told vice chancellor Suranjan Das that the use of masks should be made mandatory for attending in-person classes. According to teachers, most of the students who are visiting the campus now are not wearing masks. Partha Pratim Roy, the general secretary of the teachers' association, who supervised the survey, said about 5,500 students participated in it.

France recalls ambassadors to US, Australia

Unprecedented show of anger a result of snub over Australia-United States submarine deal

PARIS

AMERICA'S oldest ally, France, recalled its ambassador to the United States in an unprecedented show of anger that dwarfed decades of previous rifts. The relationship conceived in 18th century revolutions appeared at a tipping point after the US, Australia and Britain shunned France in creating a new Indo-Pacific security arrangement.

It was the first time ever France has recalled its ambassador to the US, according to the French foreign ministry. Paris also recalled its envoy to Australia.

Foreign Minister Jean-Yves Le Drian said in a written statement that the French decision, on request from President Emmanuel Macron, "is justified by the exceptional seriousness of the announcements" made by Australia and the US. He said Australia's decision to scrap a big French conventional submarine purchase in favor of nuclear subs built with US technology is 'unacceptable behaviour between allies and partners.' Ambassador Philippe Etienne tweeted the announcements are "directly affecting the vision we have of our alliances, of our partnerships and of the importance of the Indo-Pacific for Europe."

The Biden administration has been in close contact with French officials about the decision to recall Etienne to Paris, National Security Council spokesperson Emily Horne said. "We understand their position and will continue to be engaged in the coming days to resolve our differences, as we have done at other points over the course of our long alliance," she said in a statement. "France is our oldest ally and one of our strongest partners, and we share a long history of shared democratic values and a commitment to working together to address global challenges." State Department spokesman Ned Price also stressed the value the US places on its relationship with France and expressed hope that talks between the two sides will continue in the coming days, including at the United Nations General Assembly next week. AP

Seal 'huge mistake', says French envoy

Canberra: France's ambassador to Australia has described as a 'huge mistake' Australia's surprise cancellation of a major submarine contract in favour of a US deal, as the diplomat prepared to leave the country in an unprecedented show of anger among the allies. French envoy Jean-Pierre Thebault delivered his comments Saturday as he left his residence in the capital of Canberra. "This has been a huge mistake, a very, very bad handling of the partnership," Thebault said.

US TO EXPEL HAITIANS FROM BORDER

DEL RIO, TEXAS

THE US plans to speed up its efforts to expel Haitian migrants on flights to their homeland, officials said Saturday as agents poured into a Texas border city where thousands of Haitians have gathered after suddenly crossing into the US from Mexico. The Department of Homeland Security said in a statement that it moved about 2,000 of the migrants who had gathered under and near a bridge in the border city of Del Rio to other locations on Friday for processing and possible removal from the US. It also said it would have 400 agents and officers in the area by Monday morning. AP

WHY IS THE GOVERNMENT GOING AFTER NGOs?

GURBIR SINGH

THERE is no let-up against 'erring' NGOs. In the last 6-8 weeks, another batch of high-profile non-government organisations (NGOs) have had their licences suspended under the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act (FCRA), 2010, making them ineligible to receive foreign funds.

The spectrum ranges from Muslim organizations like Markazul Ighasathil Kairiyathil Hindiyya, a Kerala-based NGO, to a Christian group in Madurai, the Russ Foundation. Civil rights proponent Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative, an NGO founded by former New York Times correspondent Sanjoy Hazarika, as well as the Centre for Wildlife Studies, Bangalore, too have not been spared.

The reasons cited for suspension of licences include "misutilisation" of funds and not having submitted their annual returns in time. The underlying insinuation against the Muslim and Christian groups is that they have been carrying out 'religious conversions'.

Governments being suspicious about NGOs as a 'destabilising force' is not unique to the current NDA government. The Congress too has always been wary and had amended the 1976 FCR Act in 2010 to prohibit "any organisation of a political nature" from taking foreign funding. This vague definition was misused by the Manmohan Singh government, when in 2012 the Congress government broke up the environmental NGOs protesting against the Kudankulum nuclear power project, labelling them 'anti-national'.

However, the big axe came after the NDA took power in 2014. A leaked report from the Intelligence Bureau said credible names like Amnesty International, Action Aid and Greenpeace had undermined India's international standing by their criticism, and were indirectly responsible for reducing India's GDP by 2-3%.

On December 4, 2019, in a written reply in the Rajya Sabha, the government admitted that over 5 years, as many as 14,500 NGOs were banned from receiving funds from abroad, and 1,808 of these had had their FCRA licenses cancelled. Consultancy firm Bain & Company, in a survey of India's philanthropic activity, said there had been about a 40% decline in foreign funding between 2015 and 2018. The government policy to choke these organisations seemed to be working.

Filling in a void

It is indeed unfortunate that the government has adopted a negative attitude towards NGOs when there is a crying need for voluntary intervention. India is wracked by poverty, and discrimination against Dalits and minority communities. Education and health are poorly served. In this situation, the government — with all its sprawling network — has failed over the last 75 years to cover the vast canvas and bring relief to the people.

In a situation of critical shortcomings, it is the estimated 3.4 million non-governmental organisations (NGOs) who have been filling the void to provide relief at the time of disaster or crisis. Where the government network fails, the NGOs are filling in. In many ways, they are partnering government to accelerate growth and reduce poverty.

The mammoth role NGOs played was amply demonstrated in the last two waves of the Covid-19 pandemic. In the first wave, when millions of immigrants made their disastrous journeys homes, it was the NGOs who provided succour in the form of transportation, food and relief material. When oxygen and hospital beds were not available, and when there was no support even for the last rites of the dead, the government had gone missing. It was here again that the NGOs and voluntary neighbourhood groups that provided essential support services.

A more liberal policy needed

It is not that NGOs are founts of perfection. Hundreds of NGOs and their promoters are feeding off foreign and government aid, and many have very little compassion for those they pretend to be serving. But then NGOs too are mirrors of the ills of society. A government audit in 2009 had found 883 NGOs to have misappropriated public funds, leading to their blacklisting. The government has the right to demand financial compliance.

However, a few bad apples cannot be the trigger for a general witch hunt. Among those principally in the sights of the Centre are those who question its human rights record. Amnesty International, that has done extensive work all over the world to stem government authoritarianism, was driven out by end September, last year after its bank accounts were frozen.

It is also not a coincidence that the Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative, one of the latest NGOs to lose its FCRA approval, has on its board former Supreme Court Chief Justice Madan Lokur, who is known for his critical stance against the government. He is also the judge nominated by Mamata Banerjee to head the West Bengal state-level probe into the Pegasus snoopgate.

On the other hand, is it just a coincidence that there are no Hindu NGOs on the latest banned list? The proximity of RSS and the Hindu Vishwa Parishad to the government in power is well known, and many RSS' pracharaks like Manoharlal Khattar and Yogi Adiyanath are chief ministers today. These are NGOs that continue to thrive with foreign funds pouring in despite the disqualification of being organisations of a "political nature".

The double standards are obvious. So are the targets. In its drive against NGOs critical of its policies, the government is snuffing out these non-state players who add diversity to civil society. Voluntary organisations are a resource of alternate opinion essential to enrich a society's democratic moorings. It is time the government rethink its anti-NGO agenda.

Eco activity contracted in 15 states and UTs in FY21

TN, West Bengal and 4 others saw growth despite the pandemic

SUNITHA NATTI @ Hyderabad

FIFTEEN states and union territories saw economic activity contract in FY21 over FY20, a TNIE data analysis shows.

So far, only 21 out of the 34 states and union territories have published data with the National Statistics Office. Of the 21, while 15 saw economic activity contract, six including Tamil Nadu and West Bengal have posted positive growth notwithstanding the pandemic.

Meghalaya saw the sharpest contraction at 7.52%, followed by agrarian states of Punjab and Rajasthan, whose real Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP) shrunk by 6.63% and 6.61% respectively.

Of the top 10 GDP contributing states, Maharashtra and Gujarat (ranked one and three based on FY20 data) are yet to publish data. Among the remaining eight, only two states namely Tamil Nadu and West Bengal saw positive growth at 1.42% and 1.6% respectively. The remaining six states saw economic activity shrink between 0.6% and 6.61%.

Among the six states that witnessed positive growth, Tripura turned in the highest growth rate at 3.96% as against 9.4% in FY20, followed by Sikkim, whose state output grew by 3.73% compared to 5.77%. The next best was by Bihar, whose economic activity grew by 2.52% in FY21 as against 7.41% growth in FY20. Other states include Tamil Nadu at 1.42% growth as against 6.13% a year before, while West Bengal saw 1.06% growth. J&K's GSDP too grew by 0.53%.

Estimate of states' output is an important indicator to measure economic development and to track sectoral shifts. The growth rates in key sectors and the pattern of investment indicate the trajectory of growth and investment targets.

Among the large states, Uttar Pradesh, which registered a 6.36% contraction, saw the biggest setback in industrial activity, which shrunk 8.5% — the highest recorded by any state. The next biggest decline of 6.9% within industries was recorded in Delhi, where agricultural activity too fell by a massive 17.23% — the sharpest decline seen by any other state. Despite the stringent nationwide lockdown during last April-June, agricultural activity remained in positive territory across the country.

Services activity was severely hit across states, barring few exceptions like the poll-bound states of West Bengal and Tamil Nadu, which turned in positive growth, although the pace of growth was moderate at 1-2%.

Within services and industry, each state suffered sectoral setbacks. For instance in Andhra Pradesh, transport sector took the biggest hit contracting by a staggering 36%. Similarly, manufacturing and real estate in Karnataka declined by 5% each, while others like mining and quarrying too were hit.

Interestingly, in Tamil Nadu some of the key sectors including manufacturing, construction, financial services and real estate all registered growth over last year, while in West Bengal, while manufacturing fell, construction and real estate grew in FY21.

In Telangana, almost all key sectors including construction, trade, financial services and real estate saw moderate decline.

Limits on airfares to stay for 15 days at any given time, says govt

PTI @ New Delhi

THE lower and upper limits on airfares will remain for 15 days at any given time and the airlines will be free to charge without any limits from the 16th day onwards, the Civil Aviation Ministry stated on Saturday.

Since August 12 this year, this roll-over period was of 30 days and the airlines have been charging without limits from 31st day onwards.

In a fresh order issued on Saturday, the Civil Aviation Ministry explained the change in rule: "If the current date is 20th September, then the fare band shall be applicable till 4th October. Any booking done on 20th September for travel on or after 5th October shall not be controlled by fare bands." "On the following day, that is, if the current date is 21st September, then the fare band shall be in force till 5th October and for travel on or after 6th October, the fare bands shall not be applicable," the order mentioned.

So, the fare bands will shift by a day every day, it added.

India had imposed lower and upper limits on airfares based on flight duration when services were resumed on May 25, 2020, after a two-month Covid-triggered lockdown.

The lower caps were imposed to help the airlines that have been struggling financially due to coronavirus-related travel restrictions. The upper caps were imposed so that passengers are not charged huge amounts when the demand for seats is high.

Domestic air travel became costlier on August 12 this year as the Civil Aviation Ministry had raised the lower as well as upper caps on fares by 9.83 to 12.82%.

For example, the ministry on August 12 increased the lower limit for flights under 40 minutes of duration from ₹2,600 to ₹2,900 — an increase of 11.53%. The upper cap for flights under 40 minutes of duration was increased by 12.82% to ₹8,800.

The caps mentioned by the government in its order does not include the passenger security fee, user development fee for the airports and the GST. These charges are added on top when the ticket is being booked by the passenger.

Good response to ethanol buying tender

STATE-OWNED fuel retailing firms have received an "overwhelming" response to the tender they floated for buying ethanol for mixing in petrol, a government statement said on Saturday.

"The first Expression of Interest (EOI) for signing long-term agreement with upcoming dedicated ethanol plants for supply of ethanol has received an overwhelming response, with 197 bidders participating in the same," it said without giving details of the quantity ethanol manufacturers have committed to supply.

The EOI was published by Bharat Petroleum Corp Ltd (BPCL) on behalf of oil marketing companies on August 27, and it opened on September 17. "The bids are currently under evaluation," it said.

The oil companies floated the tender to buy ethanol for progressively raising the percentage of ethanol mixed in petrol to 20% (80% petrol, 20% ethanol). The statement said 173 crore litre ethanol was procured last year and 5% blending was achieved during ethanol supply year(ESY) 2019-20 (December 2019 to November 2020). PTI

Get ready for more GST rate hikes in future as govt begins 'rationalisation'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

EVEN as the 45th GST Council meeting increased taxes on many goods and services, it is probably just the beginning of more rate 'rationalisation' if the statement by the finance minister, who was speaking with the media after the GST Council meeting on Friday, is anything to go by.

While explaining the reason for not extending compensation to states beyond June 2022, the finance minister said in the press briefing that the Revenue Neutral Rate (RNR) prescribed at the time of Implementation of GST was 15.3% but the weightage average GST rate currently is only 11.6%. "We made a presentation in the meeting to apprise the states of the revenue situation," finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said. The Centre seems to have managed to convince the states given the lack of outrage from the latter.

While the Council has decided to set up a Group of Minister (GoM) to rationalise the rates and review exemptions from the point of view of revenue augmentation, the GST Council decided to increase GST on a number of items during the meeting in Lucknow.

GST on ores of iron, copper, aluminium increased from 5% to 18%; specified renewable energy devices and their parts increased from 5% to 12%; rate on cartons, boxes, bags increased from 12% to 18%; parts and locomotives changed from 12% to 18%. GST on licensing to broadcast films also raised from 12% to 18%.

Many of these rate hikes are part of the policy to correct the inverted duty structure, under which the GST on inputs is higher than the GST on output. This leads to accumulation of unutilised input tax credit.

GST rate changes in order to correct inverted duty structure, in footwear and textiles sector, as was discussed in earlier GST Council Meeting. It was decided to implement the changes from 1 January 2022. When the GST was implemented in 2017, there were over 200 items which were in the 28% tax slab, but they were subsequently reduced to 18% or less. Currently, only 37 categories of items are in the 28% slab.

FAMILIAR FOES RESTART CARAVAN

Head-to-head

MATCHES: 31

CSK WINS: 12 | MI WINS: 19

Possible XIs: Mumbai Indians: Quinton de Kock (wk), Rohit Sharma (capt), Suryakumar Yadav, Ishan Kishan, Hardik Pandya, Kieron Pollard, Krunal Pandya, Nathan Coulter-Nile, Rahul Chahar, Jasprit Bumrah, Trent Boult

CSK: Ruturaj Gaikwad, Faf du Plessis, Moeen Ali, Suresh Raina, Ambati Rayudu, Ravindra Jadeja, MS Dhoni (capt & wk), Dwayne Bravo, Shardul Thakur, Deepak Chahar, Lungi Ngidi/Josh Hazlewood

FAF DU PLESSIS FIT TO PLAY

South African opener Faf du Plessis had to miss the final three games of St Lucia Kings' campaign in the Caribbean Premier League owing to a groin injury, but the 37-year-old is all set to feature for CSK against arch-rivals MI. His presence at the top of the order is crucial for CSK and he is in excellent form too, having done well in the CPL. When the IPL was suspended in May, he was the third highest run-getter this season with 320 runs in seven games.

BRAVO FIT TO BOWL

Dwayne Bravo did not bowl for his CPL franchise St Kitts & Nevis Patriots in their last five matches due to a groin injury, but the CSK camp has assuaged any concerns. "He did not bowl towards the end of the CPL, but he has been bowling in the nets here," CSK CEO Kasi Viswanathan said. They will, however, have to make do without all-rounder Sam Curran on Sunday. He flew in from the UK on September 15 and gets out of quarantine only on September 21.

Unfinished league season recommences with a match-up between two of the traditional giants in the desert

Kohli & Co seeking good second chapter

VIVEK KRISHNAN @ Chennai

Chennai Super Kings players during a training session on Saturday | CSK

WHEN the 2021 edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL) was halted abruptly in May with India reeling under a deluge of Covid-19 cases, you couldn't have been blamed for assuming that this was it for this season. With the cricket calendar tightly packed and the threat of another wave of Covid always a possibility, the T20 extravaganza seemed certain to be a casualty this year.

But here we are, hours away from resumption of the IPL amid much fanfare once again. The fact that the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) has managed to squeeze in the remaining 30 matches (26 league matches and playoffs) into a packed calendar is another illustration of the sway that it holds as well as the importance of the IPL in the cricketing order.

The resumption, which sees the tournament return to United Arab Emirates (UAE) after it was successfully held there last year, will begin with the league's two marquee teams — Mumbai Indians and Chennai Super Kings — facing each other in Dubai. With many teams having had to rejig their squads and settle for lesser players because of Covid-related compulsions, there are doubts whether the second half of the tournament will be up to its usual standards. MI and CSK — placed at fourth and second respectively in the points table — have a chance to put those doubts to rest with a high-profile restart.

Considered the IPL's version of the Clasico, the two teams have offered some engrossing contests over the years. Even accounting for the fact that T20 matches hardly register in one's mind, Kieron Pollard's breathtaking, unbeaten 87 to help Mumbai Indians gun down 219 against the men in yellow before the suspension will be hard to forget anytime soon. Mumbai had stuttered to 81/3 at the halfway mark, but the bulky West Indian's pyrotechnics helped his side script a remarkable turnaround and pull off the second-highest run chase in the IPL.

That came on a flat surface at the Feroz Shah Kotla in Delhi, a ground that can be a graveyard for the bowlers given the small boundary dimensions. In Dubai on Sunday, the surface will be expected to be a little more sluggish and should keep the bowlers interested all the way through.

The pitches in the UAE will see a lot of high-intensity cricket over the next two months with the IPL closely followed by the T20 World Cup. As the matches pile up at the three venues in the UAE — Dubai, Abu Dhabi and Sharjah — the surfaces will be subject to wear and tear and make run-scoring more and more difficult. It is an aspect that the players will have to soon get accustomed to, especially those who will be donning their national kits at the T20 World Cup.

Amid the many interesting subplots that MI and CSK have in store for us, the chance to witness MS Dhoni in action has acquired fresh impetus owing to recent developments. At the T20 World Cup in October, after all, Dhoni will once again be part of the Indian dressing room in the capacity of a mentor. Now 40, his move to take up a behind-the-scenes role hints at a strong possibility of this IPL season being his last as a player.

While his glove work remains up to scratch, his batting has understandably waned with lack of playing time. In the first half of the IPL in India, he batted in only four of the seven innings and was often willing to bat as low as No 7. With the conditions in UAE being on the slower side and grounds in Dubai and Abu Dhabi having sizeable boundaries, it might be even harder for Dhoni to have any substantial impact with the willow. But if he can do his job as captain and take CSK all the way to the title — as he has so often done — it will be a riveting finale to a season that looked unlikely to reach its conclusion at one stage.

Kohli & Co seeking good second chapter

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

IT has been a busy last couple of months for the Royal Challengers Bangalore management. Around five players were unavailable for the tournament, increasing the necessity to find quality players for the second leg of the IPL, which resumes from Sunday. With Sri Lanka's Wanindu Hasaranga and Dushmantha Chameera being two of those replacements, they have found players, who have the much-needed experience of playing in similar conditions that will be present in the United Arab Emirates.

It is not only about the surface, which will have more wear and tear as the competition gets along, but also about the heat and humid factor. The Sri Lankan duo were born and brought up playing in such conditions, which is only going to assist Bangalore. More importantly, leggie Hasaranga comes into the season with 11 wickets in his last six T20I games, and is known for taking wickets. Chameera is someone, who can be relied on the death as he possesses good pace, slower balls and good yorkers.

"..Hasaranga and Chameera are two guys who have played so much of cricket in Sri Lanka, and they know how to play in pitches like these. Their skill set will definitely be of a huge help to us, playing in Dubai (UAE), understanding how hot and humid conditions can be and how the pitches will play out," said skipper Virat Kohli, during the launch of the team's blue jersey, which will be worn during their first game against Kolkata Knight Riders on Monday to pay tribute to the frontline warriors.

Kohli got out of quarantine on Friday and stepped out for some practice sessions and was pleased to see the energy with players giving it their all during training. Bangalore, who have never won the IPL, played some good cricket to stay in top half of the table. They are placed third and it remains to be seen how the players fare in the crucial phase now.

The core set of players, including AB de VIlliers, Kohli, Devdutt Padikkal, Mohammed Siraj, Patel and Yuzvendra Chahal have already featured for the franchise in the UAE in the IPL 2020 so they are aware of their roles. Glenn Maxwell, irrespective of the conditions, could be a game changer. "We have had a good start in IPL 2021. That is certainly a motivating and driving factor, knowing that we can play a certain brand of cricket which we have shown in the first leg with strong consistent performances, every player chipping in somewhere or the other. The strength of the team coming together in crunch moments, people standing up and making impact performances when needed for the team..." said Kohli.

Raninder re-elected as NRAI president

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

RANINDER Singh was re-elected as the president of the National Rifle Association of India on Saturday. Singh was a clear winner against his challenger Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) MP Shyam Singh Yadav. Singh garnered a whopping 56 out of 59 votes during the much-awaited elections, which had entered a legal wrangle before it was conducted as per schedule in Chandigarh.

"I'm honoured and humbled that the members have reposed faith in my leadership. Together we have achieved a lot for Indian Shooting and the time has now come to take it to another level," Raninder said. "This election was not about the chair but about its basic capability to be autonomous, yet at the same time not be violative of a National Sports Code we genuinely welcome and voluntarily follow. Indeed, the strength the Code provides us, has and will continue to support us in presenting clarity and strength to discharge our duty to the sport and its athletes," he added.

Singh emphasised about the National Sports Code as the UP State Rifle Association, on behalf of Yadav, wanted the elections to be suspended, contending that the polls violates the Sports Code. UP State Rifle Association, in fact, had filed a writ petition in Delhi High Court of which the hearing was on September 10. The Court had set the next hearing on December 13, and said it would not intervene with the election process. On September 15, the sports ministry, as directed by the Delhi High Court (to respond to two letters sent by Yadav), had told the NRAI to appoint a new Returning Officer and begin a fresh election process. But NRAI explained that they went ahead with the election as they were in danger of violating the sport ministry's earlier order (dated 31.05.2021) to hold elections before September 30.

Kanwar Sultan Singh was elected unopposed as the the secretary general while Randeep Mann was elected as the treasurer. A total of 16 governing body members were also elected.

IN the end, India's insistence that the draw was kind for them. The management believed they had the chance to put pressure on the hosts as Prajnesh Gunneswaran, the visitors' top-ranked player, would face Otto Virtanen, Finland's World No 419, to open proceedings.

Prajnesh lost in straight sets. Even though he won the first of the reverse singles on Saturday against Patrik Niklas-Salminen, the tie was pretty much dusted by then as the hosts had already won three matches by then. Rohan Bopanna, who was in the side that lost the do-or-die doubles rubber with surprise pick Ramkumar Ramanathan, suggested India would need to start producing more singles players of note if trend of losing Davis Cup ties against sides that have higher-ranked players is to stop.

Results: Davis Cup Group I: Match 1: Otto Virtanen bt Prajnesh Gunneswaran 6-3, 7-6 (1). Match 2: Emil Ruusuvuori bt Ramkumar Ramanathan 6-4, 7-5. Match 3: Haari Heliovaara/ Henri Kontinen bt Rohan Bopanna/ Ramkumar 7-6 (2), 7-6 (2). Match 4: Prajnesh bt Patrik Niklas-Salminen 6-3, 7-5 health: Long Covid symptoms rarely persist beyond 12 weeks in children and adolescents unlike adults, suggests a review. The review, published in The Pediatric Infectious Disease Journal, analysed 14 international studies involving 19,426 children and adolescents who reported persistent symptoms following Covid-19. The findings showed that long covid among children is less common than feared. The most common symptoms reported four to 12 weeks after acute infection were headache, fatigue, sleep disturbance, concentration difficulties and abdominal pain. Reassuringly, there have been no reports of serious neurological symptoms such as fits or seizures, impaired concentration or attention, or anxiety. Yet more studies are required to investigate the risk and impact of long Covid in young people.

LONG COVID'S IMPACT ON KIDS

Fire protection for world's largest tree

CONSERVATION

RED FIR: Firefighters battling to protect the world's biggest tree from wildfires ravaging the parched US have said they are optimistic it can be saved. Flames are creeping closer to the majestic General Sherman and other giant sequoias, as climate change worsens California's fire season.

"We have hundreds of firefighters there giving it their all, giving extra care," Mark Garrett, communications officer for the region's fire department, told AFP, of the operation in Sequoia National Park.

The blazes are threatening Giant Forest, a grove of around 2,000 sequoias that includes five of the largest trees on the planet -- some up to 3,000 years old.

The biggest of them all, the General Sherman stands 275 feet tall.

On Thursday, General Sherman was wrapped in fire-proof blankets -- aluminium foil intended to protect its giant trunk from the worst of the flames.

goHomely: Startup's Menu Offers Homemade Happiness

ADVERTORIAL

With a vision to offer a platform to passionate house wives/stay at home moms and empower them by creating micro entrepreneurs, goHomely is in the right space at the right time. A startup which caters to the common man, it enables women prepare regional delicacies with authentic ingredients, taste and flavour from their own kitchen.

An initiative by Rishi Shoorik, it was an easy thought for him but a tough one to execute. Having lived away from home, he craved for homely food. "After coming to Bengaluru, working for a few years and then starting my own tech venture, my only relief was the breakfast subscription I had continued with a neighbour. In 2014, by the time the idea of homely food as a entrepreneurial idea had taken shape, I decided to take it into execution. While it was easy for me as I had the required technical resources, there were a lot of trials and errors," he recollects.

The challenge for Rishi was to organise an unorganised sector and create a process. "In this course, we invested a lot of time and money, but reached a proper process that worked," he says.

CHANGING THE WAY BENGALURU EATS

The official launch of goHomely was in June 2020 and has since catered to professionals and modern day double income families living, studying and working in metro areas or those who simply wish to have a feel of an authentic regional cuisine. "On the click of a button, you have regional ghar ka khana," he says.

According to Rishi, his competitive advantage is that the concept is based on a delivery model, through an e-commerce platform. "Also, home cooks registering with us are thoroughly vetted for hygienic kitchens, cooking skills and use of fresh ingredients. We have developed a platform and infrastructure to make the delivery process efficient. The model uses the services of part-time or full-time home cooks cooking out of their own kitchens, thereby bypassing high professional and infrastructure costs and is able to provide value-for-money to the customer," Rishi elaborates.

With 3000-plus registered home chefs in Bengaluru itself, goHomely has started home chef registrations in other cities like Chennai, Hyderabad, Kochi and Mysore. "Whoever is passionate about cooking can join goHomely. Our operations team will hand-hold them," he says.

On the menu is food that is instant and can be ordered just like ordering from a restaurant. "We also have 'Plan a feast', which is a scheduled food delivery for any other day from the largest collection on the menu. In addition, there are weekly and monthly subscriptions that are 100% customisable and can cater to special needs of elderly people, pregnant women, fitness conscious individuals (Keto diet), paying guests, etc.," Rishi says.

And with the pandemic, response has been good. Rishi has been undertaking online and offline promotions and is looking to collaborate with investors to expand quickly to other cities as well. "We have mobile apps for android and iOS. The apps are our main interface to customers and are very user-friendly.

Home cooks registering with us are thoroughly vetted for hygienic kitchens, cooking skills and use of fresh, authentic ingredients. We have developed a platform and infrastructure to make the delivery process efficient and timely.
